KANSAS WHEAT IS SAID TO BE FINE

TOPEKA, Kansas, June 14.—Wheat has ripened rapidly during the hot weather of the last few days and cutting will start in Southern Kansas in about a week, according to reports received here. While the crop has deteriorated some from the estimates of May 1, prospects are still that Kansas will have a good yield.

The grain is spotty, promising to yield well in some places while other fields have a poor stand.

Harvest bands are pouring into the state on every train, most of them are riding the freight trains, or taking advantage of reduced rates by railroads. About 40,000 extra hands from outside the state are needed.

Wages range from $3.50 to $4.00 plus board and keep.

Harvesting is already under way in Oklahoma and Texas and many workers are expected to drift north with the crop ripening, the army of workers gathering in numbers.

PIPE ORANG STILL GOOD AFTER 116 YEARS' USE

(By International News Service)

MECHANICSBURG, Pa., June 14.—The second pipe organ to be built in America in 1807, is still in use, and, according to church records, has never been repaired.

This organ is installed in Old Peace Church, built near here in 1789. The church, one of the oldest in the country, for fifty years was used as a school house on week days and a church on Sundays.

The organ was purchased from Conrad Doll, an organ builder, who lived in Lancaster. The keys were made of wood, and the instrument had six stops. When completed the instrument had 300 pipes.

SPECTACULAR CASE BEING TRIED IN MISSOURI COURTS

LIBERTY, Mo., June 14.—The battle to break the will of Mrs. Julia Woods Davies, leaving an estate of $1,000,000 to Captain Harry Zeitun, once an interpreter in a London police court, today revealed a story of spectacular spending by a woman in search of adventure.

Witnesses told how Mrs. Davies, seeking thrills in Europe, fell under a "hypnotic influence" of Zeitun. They declared he encouraged her in the use of drugs, to which she had been addicted for years; cajoled the wealthy woman to appoint him as her secretary and then while under the influence of drugs, made a will leaving him her entire estate.

George Westlain Davies, an opera singer of St. Louis, the woman's fourth husband, and her two daughters Miss Ruth Rubey and Mrs. James Kemper of Kansas City brought the suit to have the will broken.

Trustees of the woman's estate said she had an income in excess of $1,000 a month. Her physician said she was insane from the use of drugs and alcoholics.

The will favoring Zeitun was made in London May 8, 1922 and Mrs. Davies died soon after.

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—Questioning of officers and men of the battleship Mississippi brought forth nothing but the highest praise for the heroism shown in the gun turret explosion. Captain W. D. Brotherton, commanding officer of the ship, told the Naval Board inquiry that he blamed no one. "They all did their duty to the best of their ability," he said as he wept openly. The actual cause of the tragedy is still a mystery. The bodies were brought ashore in plain caskets decorated with the flag. A public funeral will be held Tuesday morning and then the bodies will be started home. Full honors will be accorded the dead.

Neighbor Lions Invaded Mexia Jungle Friday

On the evening of "Friday 13th" the Mexia Lions entertained the Lions clubs of Waco and Teague with a feed and a roaring good time at the Hurdleston Hotel. The visiting Lions, attended in large and enthusiastic numbers and the "get together" was one of the most successful affairs of the season.

Lion President J. K. Hughes expressed his pleasure at Mexia's being host to so many interested neighbors and introduced Lion Dr. Jackson who welcomed the Waco and Teague Lions. Lion Tiley of Teague responded with a short speech in which he bespoke the gratitude of the visitors for an invitation to share in one of the Mexia Lions' always delightful entertainments. Lion Morgan as leader of the day, then took charge and the party moved along in characteristically snappy Lion fashion.

During the dinner the Elks orchestra furnished "jazz" music. Lion President Province of the Waco den spoke of the importance of every club sending a representative to the International Convention in Omaha, as every really live club is planning to do.

The feature of the evening was the Minstrel performance by the Waco Lions. Too much cannot be said in praise of the howling success it was, through the laughter and applause would be ample testimony to the quality of the jokes, the singing and the impersonations. It was put over with the "pep" that characterizes all the activities of the Waco Lions and was decidedly a hit. Lion Hughes voiced the appreciation of the local club for the obvious enjoyment afforded by the minstrel and cordially renewed the invitations of the Lions Clubs to "neighbor" with us.

Directors Name New Officers For Mexia C of C

The Board of Directors of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting held Friday afternoon, elected Hardy Eubanks President of the organization.

The meeting was called to order by Vice President L. S. Patterson, who stated that the object of the gathering was to select a President and other officers.

Weaver Barnett placed in nomination Mr. Eubanks, stating that after much thought he believed Mr. Eubanks to be the man for the place. The vote given attested the unanimity of opinion of those gathered.

Noel Hollingsworth was elected First Vice President and Gene Sinclair Second Vice President.

Before accepting the office, Mr. Eubanks asked for a statement from the directors as to whether they could be counted on to give their whole souled support to the Chamber of Commerce in case he did accept. He was assured of such backing and consented to perform the duties of the office.

Mr. Eubanks succeeds John Sweett to the office, Mr. Sweett having served the past year.

He is also President of the Rotary club of Mexia and for the past three years has been actively identified with the activities looking to the development of Mexia.

Jane Cason, the Secretary succeeding Ben F. Stollenwerck, is Secretary of the Lions club.

The new Board of Directors is as follows:

Cox Brodnax, W. W. Barnett, John G. Phillips, J. K. Hughes, J. W. Prickett, Phil Karner, F. P. Hutchinson, L. S. Patterson, David Murphy, N. Hollingsworth, J. W. McLendon and Gene Sinclair.

With this strong official family, representing practically every interest of Mexia and of the Mexia community, the outlook for a year of real achievement is encouraging, according to those interested in the development of the section.

Mr. Eubanks is certain to give the Chamber of Commerce an administration that will be highly pleasing because of its achievements. He is a big man with a big job before him and is assured of the help of other big men who have the same high hopes of building here a bigger and better city.

U. S. RANKS HIGH FOR OLYMPIC POLO
By PERCY M. SARRIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, June 13.—It looks like the finals for the Olympic polo championship will be confined to the United States, Argentina and Great Britain. Such is the impression gained from talks with the leading players of these countries, now in England for practice and sharpening-up with a view to triumph at Paris.
British, Argentine and American players are not greatly worried about possible French, Spanish or other opponents. They have their eyes on each other.
Jack Nelson, Argentina's brilliant captain, is quietly confident of beating England—if Argentina meets them—but is not quite sure about America.
The reason that Nelson is doubtful about America is that there is something of an "if" about Argentina and Great Britain. There is apparently some doubt about the United States team.
The present Argentine team is of an experimental character, as the members had not, prior to arrival in England played together as a team. As regards ponies, no feats are entertained, for Jack Nelson told me that his string of 33 animals is far superior to those brought over for the matches with England last year.
As regards individual players, Nelson is quite satisfied. A Kenny, the Argentine No. 1, is a magnificent player and one of the best amateur jockeys in the southern republic. Kenny was unable to make the voyage last year and the "Big Four" earned international fame. Unfortunately for Argentina only two of them are left to contest the Olympic championship. At the last moment Davis Miles was unable to make the journey and Lacey is barred under Olympic rules, owing to not having been born in the Argentine—actually he was born in Canada, I believe. Argentina's bad luck will probably prove England's fortune, for Lacey, not wishing to drop out of international polo, has intimated his readiness to accept selection for the British team which will visit America in September to fight for the international cup. His selection is almost a forgone conclusion.
Reverting to the Argentine team, David Miles' absence may not be an insurmountable difficulty, for it is possible that Miles' playing No. 2, Captain Nelson says that is really his proper position. For the important position of "back" the Argentinians have Captain Padilla, a player who in early practice matches earned golden opinions here. Captain Nelson plays No. 2. The reserve will be Brooke Naylor.
The United States lineup will be: "Tommy" Hitchcock, of the Aiken Polo Club; Rodman Wanamaker, Bryn Mawr Polo Club; Elmer J. Forsberg, Jr., Santa Barbara Polo Club; Frederick Roe, Bryn Mawr Polo Club; reserve, George Moore, Santa Barbara Club.
Hitchcock is recognized as one of the best men playing today. His lightning dashes up the field in the famous Milburn team which won the Westchester Cup from England a couple of years ago are still remembered here with painful admiration.
Rodman Wanamaker is fairly well known here, and is classed as "plus" under British rules. I personally think his handiness will be largely increased before this season is ended. At present, one cannot say that the United States team compares with the "Big Four" which won the Westchester Cup, but they are fine players, and well matched. Hitchcock himself might win any match.

ST. MARY'S WONDERFUL GROWTH RELATED AT BANQUET GIVEN REV. JOSEPH KELLEY, PASTOR

St. Mary's Rectory was the scene Thursday evening of a banquet tendered to Rev. Joseph Kelley, pastor of the local Catholic church, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of his elevation to the priesthood, half of which period being the time spent with the Mexico church.
Miss Catherine McGrail arranged the evening of entertainment, which was participated in by many friends of the honoree. A sumptuous banquet prepared by the ladies of the church, followed by after dinner speeches, music and readings featured the unusually brilliant affair.
Rt. Rev. C. E. Byrne, Bishop of Galveston, Father Heckman of Waco, and Messrs. McGrail and Felt, local patriarchs of the Catholic church of this city were honor guests of the occasion, and who joined by presence or by speech in paying their respects to Rev. Kelley.

Others present were David Murphy, who served as toastmaster, J. Sandford Smith, J. K. Hughes, Jack Womack, Dr. Lennie Metcalf, John Maddox, R. B. Mosley, John Corley, Jr., E. Nussbaum, E. P. Hutchinson, Gray Forrest, Jim Prickett, W. S. Banks, E. L. Smith, W. B. Kendrick, and A. Garland Adair of The News.
Mr. Murphy stated the purpose of the banquet which was to commemorate the fifth anniversary of Father Kelley's rise to the priesthood and to congratulate him upon his noteworthy achievements while in Mexia.
He asked the Bishop, Rt. Rev. Byrne to speak first and to tell of whatever shortcomings he knew to exist in Rev. Kelley. Rt. Rev. Byrne responded in his own earnest way, saying among other things that Father Kelley was one of his own products and that he was very proud of him and of his record. He stated that it was unusual to witness a banquet given to one so young in years and so young in the church.
"The Catholic church is so old, its history goes back so far in the centuries, that the custom generally observed is not to honor a pastor until he has served about a half a century," said Rt. Rev. Byrne. The speaker said that he had seen 20 young men under his ministry in recent years who had entered the priesthood, Rev. Kelley being one of them. He was glad to know that he had made good among the non Catholic citizens of the community who had assisted materially in bringing about the achievements and growth of the local church. It was his hope, he said, that Rev. Kelley would not view the occasion in any other but the spirit of humility. He also paid a tribute to the women who had done the biggest part of the work in building the Mexia property up to its present value.

Father Heckman also was introduced and spoke in humorous fashion, concluding by sharing in the words of commendation for Father Kelley. He said that he preached the funeral of a priest in Waco not long ago and an old fashioned negro of the Baptist faith was present and heard the sermon. He later asked her how she liked his sermon. She said: "It was simply fine, you see, do first white man I ever seen who could preach like a nigger." He said the occasion reminded him of that gathering only that the nice things then said was for the dead, while those spoken on this occasion were for the living. He also told another joke, saying that Father Kelley, not long ago was in the Provident Sanitarium at Waco. While under the influence of an anesthetic the nurse pulled the blind down. Later when he became conscious, he asked if it was night or day. To

by opening wider the field of service by which all might be benefited.
MISS DESENBERG ENTERTAINS
Miss Corinne Desenberg entertained the Thursday Luncheon club Thursday of this past week. A three course luncheon was served to the club members. Several guests were present, including Mrs. John Pindexter of Ardmore, Mesdames Sam Cox, J. W. Lanning, Georgia Bergeron and Misses Gertrude Newman and Shelley Harper. Mrs. Pindexter was awarded the guest prize and Mrs. Val Horn received the prize for the highest score.
MRS. COOK ENTERTAINS
One of the delightful social events of the past week of much pleasure was that afforded to Canton Street Bridge Club by Mrs. Roscoe Cook. Mrs. Elsie Desenberg was awarded the high score prize, following spirited contests featuring the occasion.
Mrs. Liston Tatum and children, Liston, Jr. and John Corley, returned today to their home in Corsicana after a few days spent in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Corley.
Mr. and Mrs. Emil Nussbaum and little daughter, Miss Maxim, left Saturday for Galveston to visit his parents. From Galveston Mrs. Nussbaum will go to Gloster, Miss., for a few weeks visit to relatives and friends.

At the conclusion of the program during which Father Kelley was presented with several checks and an order for a suit of clothes, he was called upon to respond to the addresses made. He stated how deeply he appreciated the banquet occasion which was a distinct surprise to him, knowing as he did the custom of the church not to honor a man in its service until he had spent a quarter of a century or more actively engaged in its welfare. He said that he hoped that Bishop Byrne would grant him a few days of grace so that he might enjoy what had been said of him with some degree of pride before he took on the spirit of humility recommended and to which he agreed as the most becoming virtue. He assured all present of his friendship in return for theirs and told them not to hesitate to call on him at any time and to make themselves at home in his home. He claimed little credit for what had been done in Mexia, saying that the credit should go to the women whom he had selected for the work and to Protestants as well as Catholics for the finances which had made the local church property what it was. He recounted his experiences and hardships, as well as the successes, in Mexia. When he was sent here by Bishop Byrne two and a half years ago, he declared that he could not find a man in Mexia who knew where the Catholic church was located. He finally discovered it himself near the Sumpter Street Grammar School. There he asked a boy if that was the Catholic church. On being told that it was, he went inside and found the place dilapidated and with none of the essentials for a service scarcely to be found. He had to live in Teague during those days. His first service on Sunday here found only twelve persons present. And today the local church property, the rectory, the St. Mary's church and the lots they are located on and the paving represent a value of $40,000. He said that the non-Catholic citizens of this community had paid, he verily believed, $25,000 of that amount. It was, therefore, natural for him to feel deeply appreciative of all acts of friendship, and of all service rendered. The men present, he said, had contributed largely to the cause, at the same time deploring that many others who had aided them were not present on the occasion. It was his hope, he declared, that the gathering would result in cementing more closely the ties of friendship, there-

MRS. HICKMAN ENTERTAINS AN ALL DAY PARTY

A most enjoyable affair recently given was an "all day" party of the "18" Sewing Club at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hickman.

Each member of the club brings an appetizing dish for their "all day" affair, the consequent menu being that of a dinner of choice and substantial proportions. Mrs. Hickman's home was bright and fragrant with the various flowers of spring, the dining table presenting a charming picture with its dress of exquisite linen, sparkle of China and silver and its center piece of jessamines.

Broiled spring chicken, rice, gravy new English peas, beans and potatoes with ham bones, tomato and lettuce salad, strawberry preserves, chow chow, pickled beets, ice tea, ice cream and angel food cake, were hugely enjoyed by all.

Shortly after dinner when all were busily engaged with their sewing, a most unusual type of peddler came to the door and upon being admitted to the house displayed various articles, lace, hose, pins, etc. The "dago" brogue of the peddler, her seriousness and perfect good disguise, did not readily lead to her being recognized as the charming hostess of the day.

Another clever plan of the hostess for entertaining her guests was on original contest called "Know Each Other." Where the answer to the questions are the names of the members of the club.

"Know Each Other"

1. A flower (Blossom) and what do when we get hot? (Sweat.)

2. A place where poppies grow, a letter (Francis) and a person of nobility (King.)

3. Part of an old song (Nila) whar do do when we do wrong and the name of a girl (Sinclair.)

4. One of the months (May) and one who makes and tends a garden (Gardner.)

5. The sound of a letter—Miss Kennedy's brother's name (Elen) a hole, and a grown boy (Pittman.)

6. Her first is the name of a boy and girl (Leila.) What you do when you settle an account and 2,000 lbs. (Peyton.)

7. A boy's name—what some people call their mother (Alma) and a servant (Cook.)

8. The way some people cut the neck of their dress, an epoch of history (Vera) a country jay and a city dude (Hickman.)

9. Her first is a precious stone (Pearl) a millionaire, a letter and a preposition (Goolsby.)

10. A capital letter, past tense of ate (Kate) and a grove of trees (Forest.)

11. A Biblical name (Mary) an exclamation, and the name of an old Mexia family (Howard.)

12. An insect, fifth letter of the alphabet, and two letters alike (Bess) a coop (i) two letters of alphabet and a boy (Hutchison.)

13. I can't tell you her first, if I did you'd know her last, but the first letter of her given name is to behold (Clara.) Her last name is the name of a Mexia Banker's boy and two letters that sound like a story when it's concluded (Stevens.)

These thirteen friends enjoy each other and their work very much and especially do they enjoy such a graceful hostess as Mrs. Hickman.

Mrs. Terry, guest of Mrs. John Seewatt, was an out of town guest.

W. R. BOYD MAKES APPEAL FOR VOTES IN 77TH DISTRICT

Hon. W. R. Boyd of Teague was in Mexia Saturday and issued his formal announcement for District Judge of the 77th Judicial District, comprised of Limestone and Freestone counties. He says:

To the Democratic Voters of Limestone and Freestone Counties:

Sometime ago, I announced my candidacy for Democratic nomination for the office of District Judge of the 77th Judicial District comprised of Limestone and Freestone counties. I have resided in Freestone county for 35 years, and have actively engaged in the practice of law continuously for the past 25 years, and feel that such experience well qualifies me for such position.

It would be a pleasure for me to see all of you in person, and personally solicit the support of each, but this will hardly be possible.

I trust that those who do not know me will make a distinction as to both my personal and professional qualifications for this office.

I believe in, and have always stood for the strict enforcement of all our laws; for an economical administration of all our public affairs and for as rapid dispatch of the business of the courts, as is consistent with the rights of litigants.

If elected District Judge, I pledge the giving of all my energies, and the best that is in me to the fulfillment of the duties of that office.

I will make an effort to see each and all of you in person at some time prior to the election. And in the meantime I court from each and all a full investigation of myself, and trust that you will favor me with your vote and active influence.

W. R. BOYD.

FORMER PASTOR OF MEXIA CHURCH IS VISITOR WEDNESDAY

Rev. F. C. Laslette, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Mexia was in town for a few hours Wednesday and Thursday chatting with his many local friends. He is to speak at Teague July 6, also at Lufkin June 22 for Dr. Solomon who is pastor of the Methodist church there. Dr. Solomon is well known in Mexia and is one of the strongest preachers in Texas.

Dr. Laslette tells a wonderful story in connection with his work as State lecturer for the Near East Relief. 236 girl students at the San Marcos Baptist Academy pledged themselves to forgo breakfast every Sunday morning and give its cost to the Near East Relief which means that every Tuesday morning a check for $25 reaches the State office of the Near East Relief in Dallas, and which also means that 147 homeless waifs are fed, clothed and sheltered every day because of the sacrifice of these San Marcos girls, for 95 per cent of all money collected for Armenia reaches the people of that destitute and stricken land.

Dr. Laslette will leave soon for California where he will supply for three Sundays for one of the pastors of one of the leading Presbyterian churches of that State. He will return to Texas in September and will speak at Bryan soon after his return.

THE HOUSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD (S. W. Foss)

Let me live in my house by the side of the road,
 Where the race of men go by,
 The men who are good and the men who are bad,
 As good as and as bad as I.
 I would not sit in the scorners seat,
 Nor hurl the cynic's ban,
 Let me live in the house by the side of the road,
 And be a friend to man.

FLAG DAY

There is no such red in the reddest rose,
 There is no such blue in the skies,
 There is no such white in the winter snows,
 As we see when Old Glory flies.

Prince and potentate know those colors; slave and serf understand their meaning. Tropics and arctic alike have seen their gleam.

Anglo Saxon civilization has taught the individual to respect his own rights. American civilization has taught the individual that "I am my brother's keeper." Anglo Saxon civilization has taught the individual that the world is his for his own selfish conquest. American civilization has taught the individual that "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God and thy neighbor as thyself." Anglo Saxon civilization has carried its flag into every land and on every sea and fortified it with fort and garrison. American civilization has implanted its flag in the hearts of all who love Liberty.

"Time's noblest offspring is the last."

To all true Americans the flag of our country has but one meaning:

"Liberty!"

"There is no such thing as an American literature," Americans are told by the critics of the Old World.

They may be right from their own standpoint

But to those who see with clear eyes, the story of America, the real epic of the mightiest nation on earth today, is told by deeds if not by words. That tale is written on no scrap of fading paper, but it is carved deep and large for all the world to read, carved across three thousand miles of a continent above which flies the dominant flag of the Stars and Stripes which has never felt the heel of a foe. The story which the American flag holds within its gleaming folds is one besides which Iliad and Odyssey pale as nursery tales for babes. Now the tale is written in the etching on the skylines of great cities and over fields of toil where Liberty-loving men and women live by the sweat of their brow. It is the story of the wondrous rise of a nation, from a few huddled huts on a broad prairie or in tangled wild woods, skirting a few miles of the Atlantic's Ocean line, until today it has taken its place in the forefront of the powers of the world. And ever above this inspiring history, has floated majestically that banner born so long ago in the home of Betsy Ross in Philadelphia.

On the 14th of June, 1777, the flag, our flag first saw the light of a new day.

Today the name of that little woman who made the first flag, Betsy Ross, gleams high in letters of gold among the world's immortals.

Since that day, many millions of American mothers have contributed gloriously to the service of their country. Every true American home today is a shrine just like the little brick house at 339 Arch Street, where the flag was born. Made in a home by a woman, it must be protected in homes by her offspring.

Bright with steel and red with blood is the path which the American flag has traveled. Americans must never forget that it was by sacrifice and through hardships that the Stars and Stripes has been handed down to us to love, to honor and to obey, to protect and cherish and to teach our children to keep and honor with a love that leads to supreme unselfish sacrifice and service upon the altar of our home and country.

When you see this flag go by, let all Americans stand with bowed heads as it floats past. Some may deride the expression of all noble sentiments, but do your duty even in the face of tire. Other flags are honored because of their past, but the American flag is to be honored not only because of its history but also because of its promises for tomorrow.

The American flag is the hope of the world.

With the political year now on; with great issues being discussed; with this Flag day bringing its thrilling story to the sons of men, it becomes more apparent than ever that these United States must take her place with the leading nations of the earth in a League of Nations to make the last war truly the last. The ideals of Woodrow Wilson will ultimately prevail, for they were the ideals written in every thread of our star-spangled banner

THE COMMISSION PLAN

Description, the people elect a commission of five persons who are responsible both for legislation and for the administration of the city. They are elected at large on a non-partisan ticket. One of the Commissioners is named Mayor, usually by his colleagues but his powers are ceremonial only.

The rank and file of city employees may or may not be under civil service

The five commissioners sitting together pass ordinances and determine administrative policies as a board. The work of the city is organized into five departments, with one commissioner at the head of each department in the hands of a commission which can be easily watched by the voters. Election at large assures a high type of man in public office. Election of only five makes it possible for the people to know all about all the candidates. A small group can transact business with more facility than a large council. The commission is responsible for both the tax rate and the service.

Arguments pro All the affairs of the city are centralized

Arguments Contra. Commission government is five headed administration. Administrative policies therefore are a series of compromises. The head of a department finds himself constantly overruled by the vote of other members. One of two results follows: either friction develops among the members or each commissioner is permitted to go his own way without consideration of other departments or the city as a whole. The city gets five little governments.

The commissioners being elected on a political platform, are rarely good executives and scarcely ever experienced in the administration of municipal activities.

Many popular and trustworthy persons who would make good members of a legislative body are not by nature fitted to be executive heads of a city government.

The appropriating power and spending power are in the same hands, which encourages extravagance.

MEXIA'S PARK A JOY FOREVER

If you are in favor of a public playground go by Hughes park the first opportunity and you will see a sight that will please your eye and rejoice your heart. If you are not in favor of the public playground, drive by the same park and see an argument against your belief which will forever set you right on the subject. The park now needs that band shell, seats for the grown-ups and nurses with little children. The equipment already set up gives Mexia the best playground to be found in any city park in Texas. It's all due to the generosity of the Hughes family and to the work of Mesdames R. D. Morgan, John Sweatt and George Peyton working as a committee and the help rendered by Mrs. W. W. Barnett, President of the Civic League. Its immediate installation is due to the personal supervision and contribution of time and interest by R. D. Morgan of the city of Mexia. The park now needs the support of the citizenship, so that a permanent caretaker may be employed to look after the valuable property, to keep the park up to a high standard in appearance and to make it most serviceable to this community. Mexia citizens ought to be proud of their park and make it ever better. What has been done so far has been done without expense to the tax payers or private citizens of Mexia, outside of these herein mentioned.

SERMONS IN STONE

The Rotarian

There seems to be a rather well-defined analogy between the architecture of our places of business, and the methods by which business is conducted. In pioneer days, practically every American factory was notable for one thing, namely, its utility. There was no particular beauty in the succession of right angles which distinguished the building, and with a few notable exceptions, the business creed was "Business is business—get while the getting's good."

With the softening of the struggle for existence came a new form of business architecture—and a new code. The angular buildings were embellished by a profusion of florid ornaments, more or less inappropriate. Intended to decorate and relieve the harsh angles, these Corinthian touches usually had the opposite effect, for their cornucopias and foliage served but to make the straight lines of the building a shade more evident. So into the business conscience there came an abundance of high-flown theory, good in itself but often grotesque in its application. Overstressed efficiency was paralleled by the Boosters' Club type of advertising, and men who made a fetish of statistics were matched by men who talked glibly of "vision" meaning thereby hallucination rather than perspective. This gingerbread type of architecture still exists, and so does the business mind which tries to reconcile unethical method and ethical protestation.

But there are signs of improvement both in architecture and in business. The new generation, still further relieved from immediate necessity, looks at its critics with a calmly critical eye, and then sends for the architect and landscape gardener. It is no longer sufficient to erect a new building. If your building is to be hailed as a contribution to the city's progress it must be one whose design is not too glaring, and whose dimensions fit into the city design which has supplanted the old haphazard method. So, in our business methods, it is not enough to talk, we must act. No amount of glaring billboards to proclaim our good intentions or the qualities of our product will save us, if not accompanied by a genuine service to the community and a well-defined respect for the rights of employees. There is an Ionic simplicity in business methods as in architecture, something which commands even as it serves, something which gets straight to the point and halts there. We like it just as instinctively as we like a child, and for the same reason—the absolute candor which we sense even before we prove it. As childhood is beautiful in its simplicity, yet no less precious because of its beauty, so clear-cut business ethics combines the eminently practical with the eminently attractive.

In business as in architecture, we should build not alone for the present, but for the future, not alone for our own profit, but for the good of the whole community. History teaches that beauty, honesty, and nobility of purpose, will outlast many buildings and many businesses. It was a wise philosopher who said that the achievements of the ages could be summed up in a few emotions.

OUTLOOK PROMISING FOR FURTHER DEVELOPMENT IN MEXIA TERRITORY GROESBECK GREATLY ENCOURAGED

The Mexia oil field district now is in the spotlight as the most interesting of all Texas sections to the wildcat, to the oilbroker and to operators who keep their eyes on the most promising area. In every direction, the wildcat is getting busy. There are the new tests of Freestone county, others in adjoining counties, the Speight test, south of town, the test near Hubbard, the test near Thornton, another near Kosse and promised activity at Groesbeck.

Concerning the operations around Groesbeck, The Groesbeck Journal has this to say:

"There are more indications of well drilling and oil development in the Groesbeck territory at this time than there has been at any time during the year. The reasons for this are rather varied. One of them is the fact that following the drilling up of the Powell field all the companies struck out to the northeast of that point in the full expectation that another area of big production would be found to the northward. Several structures were taken up through the list of counties northeast of Powell and a large drilling campaign was put under way several months ago. The results have demonstrated apparently that it was a case of chasing the rainbow and both the major companies and the smaller investors who followed them lead to the northward have so far encountered nothing but another experience. Soon after this situation became apparent drilling was undertaken along the line of the producing fields to the southwest of Powell with the result that another pool of high grade oil has been found at Richland, approximately between Powell and Currie fields. Thus with the field to the northward found unpromising and with Powell, Richland, Currie and Mexia making the southward trend of production along the Balcones fault—with Luling to the southward showing the existence of production still further to the south, it is only natural that the likelihood of big production in one or a number of pools southwest of the Mexia field along the fault should appeal to development.

Added to these indications for operations is the further fact that at Kosse the Humphreys Jones well and at Groesbeck the Humphreys Welch No. 2 each were oil wells in the opinion of all who saw them in action and proved the existence of productive sands in both structures. Due to these combinations of circumstances it is understood that at least three wells will be put under way within a month. In addition to these operations are the likelihood of others as indicated by the arrival of two scout geologist crews arriving here this week to work out structures in the Groesbeck territory. The Journal feels that an oil well in its own back yard is nearer at hand than ever before."

THE IRON GATE OUGHT TO SLOW 'EM UP A LITTLE

GAINESVILLE, Texas, June 14.—After two years of effort, John T. McCutcheon, local jeweler, has completed a safety device which he claims will make grade crossing accidents next to impossible. Railroad men who have seen a working model of the invention declared it to be entirely practical and successful.

Two years ago, McCutcheon and his wife had a narrow escape at a grade crossing. He decided then and there to work out a device that would protect motorists at crossings where the view of the track is obstructed.

The invention consists of a series of levers and controls, automatically operated by electricity. At the approach of a train, an electric circuit is completed and a red flag, a red light, and a warning bell start in motion at the crossing. In addition, iron gates are automatically lowered on each side of the crossing to prevent careless drivers disregarding the warnings.

ENGLAND HAS AN ACTIVE VOLCANO

LONDON (United Press)—England at last has an active volcano. And Londoners and others are cheerfully paying 1 shilling 6 pence to witness it in eruption.

The volcano is one of the exhibits of the New Zealand section of the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley Park, and is an extraordinarily faithful reproduction of the Rotorna Volcano in that Dominion.

Three or four eruptions daily delight spectators, and there are continuous pools of boiling mud, clouds of steam and a geyser hissing never-ending columns into the air.

Demonstrations are given how one can cook food in the boiling pools, boil eggs for breakfast and wash clothes without having to pay a gas bill.

Bennett, is Plaintiff, and Western Producing & Drilling Company, a corporation, and G. E. Kadane, are Defendants, and said petition alleging:

That Western Producing & Drilling Company, is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Delaware with a permit to do business in Texas; that said defendants on or about August 1, 1922, executed its note to plaintiffs in the sum of $812.57, payable at Groesbeck, Texas, on August 1st, 1923, said note bearing 8% interest from date thereof, and providing in the usual form for 10% attorney's fees, said note signed "Western Producing & Drilling Company, By G. SARTORIAL PICTURE GALLERIES

THE smart Parisienne wears the latest conservative costumes, sober in color, and elegant of line, but there is always about them some intriguing note. What a charming idea it is, for instance, to open the plain dark coat frock on the left, or brown Frocks, on such a smart line, with a trim, with brown but-ton, drawn thread work and gofered lace. This idea of conceal-ing, as it were, one layer of the costume under another is popular in Paris, according to Henri Croange, fashion authority. Sometimes this leads to extravaganzas, as in the case of the lady on the right who displays on her white satin de Lyon, inner vest a scene which apparently depicts the Prince of Wales coming to grief on the hunting field.

TO THINE OWN SELF BE TRUE

By MISS ELISE GIBSON
Salutarian Mexia High School

By MISS ELISE GIBSON
Class mates, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have chosen a subject for this evening that comes straight from my heart, it is, being true to oneself. I am no accomplished speaker, but it is quite a pleasure to stand before my class mates of '24 and this vast audience and tell you some of the things that come to my mind. With the knowledge that an ordinary person has, he should feel that his knowledge might help someone who is less fortunate than he in obtaining an education. "Let the whole world know what you know, but do not try to show that you don't know," is a good maxim.

Carlyle also says, "Be true if you would be believed." What a tremendous value that sentence has—One might easily apply it to his everyday life. Do we ever stop to think, are we being true to ourselves? In being true to oneself, one is being true to others. The three greatest assets to one's character are: Truth, honesty and self sacrifice. When we learn well the motives which prompts us to certain actions then let us be honest in our dealings with others. When we perform an act, let us then turn our eyes inward and see if the act was selfish. If it was, let us be frank enough to let the other fellow see that it was.

Self sacrifice is a lesson which will logically follow the development of truth and honesty. If a person is true with himself and honest with his associates, he will have developed to such an extent that he will find no genuine happiness not inspired by service to others.

I have to live with myself so I want to be fit for myself to know. I don't

RUSSIAN PEASANTS SEE END OF THE WORLD

MOSCOW (By mail to United Press)

—The Russian peasant, especially of the Voronezh region, has a hunch that the world is coming to an end quick.

In some places they are refusing to till or sow the land: "What's the use?"

However, the local rumors differ on how the end is coming. Some declare that there will be an earthquake and that fire out of the earth will destroy the world. The others insist on the flood theory.

COOPER ENTERS STUDEBAKER IN ALTOONA RACES

ALTOONA, Pa., June 15.—Earl Cooper, sensational winner of second place in the recent Indianapolis Speedway classic with his Studebaker Special, has arrived here and gone into training for the second annual international championship race on Flag Day, June 14.

Paul Sheedy, general manager of the Altoona board oval, went all the way to Indianapolis to persuade Mr. Cooper to race for the $25,000 purse in the big 250-mile meet.

Veteran A. Favorite
Cooper's record breaking speed in the 200-lap grand at Indianapolis, when he was pushing his Studebaker Special at 105 miles an hour and taking the turns without slackening his speed, makes him a favorite contender in the race here.

The Altoona track is known as the "world's fastest oval." Drivers must qualify at a speed of at least 100 miles an hour. The Studebaker Special, piloted by the 500-mile distance in Indianapolis in 56:17.18 time, at an average of 97.17 miles an hour. Jimmy Murphy made a record in 1922 when he did it in 51:15 miles an hour.

Cooper led most of the race at Indianapolis, but at times with Murphy. It was when he was past the 100-mile mark that the trouble began, and he was forced to retire. He was then in a desperate struggle with the crowd, but he was not able to finish.

Both of Cooper's believe Cooper is due to make 1924 his greatest year in his foreign games of racing. They point out that his hard luck in 1923 prevented him from being a real sensation. Leading in every race, including the opening of the Altoona track, he slipped into trouble when a few laps from the finish.

But his luck changed at Indianapolis on Wednesday night. The spectators were so big that he was brought about by the abundance of better and good luck moments, but him by bringing nothing from all over the country. Cooper sent out a worded S. D. S. for some one to be his study last night. And finally 1,000 of his admirers to inspire him to victory.

All the other races, however, that Cooper, leader of a record pace, and leading most of the race, should have won, he did not win. But he did not mind. Cooper thinks it is all over now. He is a happy man.

Frank Kulick and the Ten Millionth Ford car which he is driving from New York to San Francisco via the Lincoln Highway. Years ago in the days when Ford cars were entered in automobile races, Kulick won fame and broke many records as the driver of Ford racers.

is confident of winning on June 14. "My Studebaker Special emerged from the Indianapolis race in perfect condition," he said today. "It did the 500 miles without missing a beat of the engine. I could have gone into another race with it immediately. I have a feeling that the little car and I are going to make a barrel of money this year."

He's Driving Car Faster
Cooper, say the clockers at the track here, is driving faster than he used to. They say he is "heavy footed" and that his Studebaker Special promises to hang up some new records in automobile racing before the season ends.

Can he do it again?
PETERED EAR MAY BE THAT OF INDIAN CHIEF

TAMANEND, Pa.—No scientific pilgrimages have been started in this direction because of the finding of a petrified human ear in a dam here, but folks in this country are somewhat agitated by the discovery. They recall that historians recorded that in the early part of the eighteenth century the old Indian chief Tamanend, hanged here by early settlers, was minus an ear. In fact, the town was given its present name because Tamanend lost his ear here.

Germany Sees Better Days

By CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, June 14.—Germany is rapidly recovering from her fall and winter "starvation."

Unemployment is now considerably less than in England, and is rapidly getting down to a pre-war standard. In Berlin, it is now no greater than before the war.

Stability of the rentenmark has made it possible for the cities to get sufficient funds from the country and from abroad. Last fall and winter, the cry of starvation was in part due to poor distribution, partly to the fact that the junkers would not accept the sliding paper mark, and partly to the fact that the industrial situation threw many out of work.

There was a certain pinch for a few months, but Germany's wealthy did not care for their own as they could have. That is admitted, even by professional child feeders.

Now, that nearly everybody is again at work, the starvation cry is diminishing. It has also grown dimmer since the Dawes report showed

ed that Germany is intrinsically sound, and can again come to the front if given a brief breathing space and a temporary financial lift.

Child feeding continues in the schools, as there are admittedly many children suffering from a chronic undernourishment. Whether this admirable work can be continued during the vacation period is in question.

But there is no longer the extreme anxiety that was felt last fall. The German is prone to exaggerate his woes, especially since the war, and he saw the winter through extremely dark spectacles.

However, the rentenmark has completely changed the national viewpoint. The housewife can now buy and she can also save.

Moreover, the prospect of a real reparations settlement, even if it brings with it severe burdens, is proving a relief. Most Germans are now saying: "We will again have a chance to work and to save; the Dawes plan will make it possible for us to get out of the mire and to become again self-supporting and self-respecting."

Keep on telling 'em and you keep on selling them.

Whole Village Of Americans In One Dwelling

WASHINGTON, — The National Geographic Societies' expedition headed by Neil M. Judd, is now working in the ruins of Pueblo Bonito, New Mexico, giant "apartment house" of prehistoric homes. More than 300 rooms have been cleared and many kivas, or circular ceremonial chambers, already have been exposed. The explorations revealed that Pueblo Bonito was a busy village within a single dwelling. When inhabited, it stood four stories high, included some 800 rooms, and sheltered 1200 or more persons.

No written record or hieroglyphic inscription was left by these ancient Americans. But it already is possible to piece together their life story from the evidence of the silent walls of their abandoned rooms and the scattered objects recovered from their deserted dwelling. Their daily activities, their civic organizations, their communal enterprises and their struggles against more warlike tribes can be pictured. It is evident that the Bonitans, who lived in what now is the Chaco Canyon National Monument, in northwestern New Mexico, probably had the most pretentious settlement in the southwestern United States in pre-Columbian times.

With the penetration of the Pueblo Bonito ruins, the early history of America has begun to attract world interest—an interest being augmented with the sending of a National Geographical Society Expedition to uncover the great mound of Cu-

cuico in the Valley of Mexico, which may be 8000 years old.

SEVENTH COURT HOUSE IS NOW GOING UP IN LIMESTONE

GROESBECK, Texas, June 15.—Limestone County's seventh Court House is now well under way and will likely be completed by January 1st, A. D. 1925. The marble coping around the top is being put in place and plasterers have been at work finishing the inside of the building for more than a month now.

This new structure occupies the block just east of where the old building now stands and will be even more conveniently located as to the business section of the city than was the old building. It is a poured concrete frame, heavily reinforced, with outside finish of faced brick and dressed marble, and will be fire proof throughout. The grounds will be filled in and beautified with trees and shrubs and its surroundings improved generally. The building was designed by the Rice Engineering Company and is being constructed by the Rice Construction Company both concerns of Amarillo, Texas.

There are three stories and a basement to the building, two district court rooms to care for the two courts that are now established here, a County Court room, County Industrial Agent's office, and a ladies rest room, besides office space for all the County officials. While the building is constructed throughout on simple lines, still one of the distinctive features is the ornate beauty of its finished appearance, and the flower conservatory at the landing of the stairway from the first to the second story on the west side of the building will add much to the unique style of this modern temple of justice.

Groesbeck common brick was used extensively in the construction but the outside finish is of rough mud brick and Bedford stone with the shades of color changing from a very dark at the base to a light stone at the top.

The first court house was built in this county soon after its organization in 1846 of four foot cedar boards pegged onto cedar post standing upright and covered with three foot cedar boards and being, as is its present successor, the most pretentious building in the county. It had punchon floors, wherein the greater number of buildings in this section at that time had only dirt floors. This was located at Springfield, the ruins of which now stands near the banks of the Navasota River five miles north of Groesbeck with only a small frame store building operated by a colored man and surrounded by a small colored settlement. This was followed by a small brick building which was burned in about 1870. Most of the records were saved though and were placed in a frame building that had been used for a store. This building was destroyed by fire on October 21, 1873 together with practically all the records of the County. The County was then transferred to Groesbeck where a small wooden building was used for a short while until a brick building could be erected where the present court house now stands. This building was burned in 1901 and the one now in use was built in 1902. The records were saved from destruction in this last fire. Thus Limestone County has learned its court house building by expensive experience and every precaution has been taken in the building of this seventh court house, as was in the one now standing, to build so well that former experiences of loss by fire might not be repeated.

Hampton Steele of this county, son of Alphonso Steele the last survivor of the Battle of San Jacinto, has lived to see all seven of Limestone County's court houses and hopes to be at the formal dedication of the last one when it is completed. He is eighty-five years old and the oldest native born Texan so far as can be learned and is still healthy and active.

The ceremonies at the laying of the corner stone of the new building, which Mr. Steele attended, were appropriate and elaborate but it is planned to hold even greater ceremonies

and celebrations when the edifice is completed and ready for occupancy.

COUNTY CLERK DAY POPULAR IN COUNTY

J. L. Day, County Clerk of Limestone County, was here on business from Groesbeck Friday. Mr. Day is being assured on every hand and by voters in every part of the county that they are going to vote for his reelection. His lead will likely prove many to one, as he has proven to be an efficient officer, courteous to all alike and the tool of no man or clique. These are elements that make friends for any man or woman and besides Mr. Day has only held the office one term and Democrats have long learned the wisdom of keeping an official on the job at least two terms and are going to extend this splendid county clerk the traditional honor.

In speaking of his candidacy, Mr. Day modestly states:

"In announcing my candidacy for a second term as County Clerk I feel that I am only asking for something which has been a custom for many years past.

I promised the people two years ago, if they would elect me, I would do my best to conduct the office on an efficient basis, which should be characteristic of all well regulated offices. This I have done, and I believe every one who has had work sent or brought to this office will agree that my services have been satisfactory, and upon my record I am willing to stand. Since assuming the office of County

Clerk I have secured all the advantages of one's position because of his social or political standing, but believing that all are entitled to a fair and impartial consideration at the hands of a public official, and in this connection I believe that when one is serving in an official capacity that he should not be the special tool of any individuals nor be controlled by any influences which will keep him from giving every one, regardless of race, creed or color a square deal.

I believe in strict enforcement of all the laws by and through the duly constituted authorities, and I will state that I stand for all that which is right, and against all that which is wrong, and in any walk of life that I am placed I will continue to fight for those principles which insure a clean government and making our county a fit place in which to live and to rear our children.

The office of County Clerk belongs to the people, who have been very kind to me; they have gently taken me by the hand and honored me in a way I shall never forget, and for these many favors I am very grateful."

JOHN W. CAVANER
IS GIVEN 99 YEARS
IN PENITENTIARY

In the 17th district court Thursday morning the jury in the case of John W. Cavaner, on trial since Monday for the murder of his wife in the Ben Hur community last April, returned a verdict of guilty and affixed the punishment at 99 years in the pen.

Cavaner's wife was found dead with her throat cut at the family home on April 21. Cavaner was also found with a big gash in his throat, but he recovered under treatment in the jail where he was placed.

In the trial the defense pleaded insanity, but the jury seems to have thought otherwise and sent him to the pen.

TEST OF SOUND WAVES
FAILS TO SHOW SPEED

(By International News Service)

MILAN, Italy, June 14.—To test the carrying properties of waves of sound to a great distance, an experiment on a large scale was made 65 kilometers west from Clermont Ferrand. Ten thousand kilograms of explosives were blown up, at half past seven in the evening. The sound was expected to be heard at Turin at 7:50 p. m., at Milan at 7:55, at Padua at 8:05 p. m. Many persons were prepared to record their impressions.

During the war it was observed that there appeared to exist so-called "zones of silence," in which sounds disappeared. It was hoped that this experiment might throw some light on this subject. However, neither at Milan or Turin was anything heard of the explosion, and another test will be made on the 23rd and 25th of this month.

BARBER SHOPS

We wish to announce to the public that we have acquired the room formerly occupied by Mrs. W. A. Everett, next door east of our shop, and are taking out the partition and making one big barber shop out of the two rooms.

We are putting in a special department for ladies and children under the supervision of Mr. George Scroggins, who has recently completed the prescribed courses for this department. In this separate department, ladies and children can secure their barber work with all the conveniences and privacy of a modern city barber shop.

AVIATOR IS WILLING TO CHALLENGE DEATH RAY

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 13.—Lieutenant Walter Sutter, United States flyer, has offered to fly in a metal plane and permit Grindell Mathews, the English inventor, to play his "death ray" upon the machine as long as he wishes. In volunteering his services Lieutenant Sutter expressed a desire to test the ray in the interest of science. At the same time he defied it to bring him down from a height of 2,000 feet or even less.

"I don't think the ray has the power to bring an airplane to the ground," he said. "I am willing and anxious to take the chance. I would like to gamble for science and the effect it would have in the prevention of future wars."

LADY ASTOR CALLS GOOD OLD DAYS TALK NONSENSE

(By International News Service)
LONDON, June 13.—It's nonsense to talk about the "good old days," Lady Astor says.

"There is a lot of nonsense talked about the good old days," Lady Astor declared. "I want to know who was having a good time in those days. Old Tut-anh-Amen might have been having a good time, but I am convinced the people who were giving him a good time were not correspondingly well off."

"The masses want a better world, and they will get it through ordinary methods if they can, but if you get people who say: 'I am out for myself and the devil take the hindmost,' the devil will take them."

No matter what kind of business a man may be in, it will pay him to advertise.

The Knitted Scarf's the Thing!

THE knitted scarf has taken the world of feminine fashion by storm. No costume is complete without one, and certainly no more flattering mode—no style more flattering to women was ever devised.

Among the heavy, closely knitted silk scarves, one may find numerous color harmonies that will lend freshening touches to the severity of the tailleur. Bright Roman stripes are in favor, as well as striking combinations of yellow, green, black or red with white. In fact one of the new knitted scarves, of a delicately sheer and lace-like texture alternates row upon row of rosewood, green, wood brown, and orange—an ensemble at once colorful and striking.

One may be as individual as one chooses in the matter of wearing one's scarf. For smart street wear, most scarves are tied stock-fashion, snugly under the chin. But, as summer brings increasing warmth, on the Avenue a growing tendency was noticed to wear the scarf with one end tossed lightly over the shoulder, in the manner sketched.

Monograms are in their hey-day—they ornament sweaters, frock and bathing suit impartially. Even the knitted scarf falls prey to the charm of the monogram and flaunts Chinese characters as the final note in knitted smartness.

Canada's Resorts Meet Every Sort of Vacation Demand

Camping, canoeing, fishing, hunting, alpine climbing and "roughing it" appeal to many as ideal ways in which to enjoy their summer vacations, and if they can do these things in Canada, so much the better. There is, however, another host of older, more sedate souls who also desire an annual change of scene and residence, yet who wish to spend their vacation days in surroundings approximating the comforts of home. These, Canada can also take care of.

St. Andrews-by-the-Sea is one of the most attractive North Atlantic coast resorts. This New Brunswick village boasts a fine hotel, the Algonquin, a huge structure facing the sea on three sides. Fine golf courses, that for excellence vie with those of St. Andrews in Scotland; boating and bathing in Passamaquoddy Bay; tennis and bowling on the green; motoring or driving to many interesting points over fine roads that often run for miles through deep woods, are delights that appeal to those who visit St. Andrews summer after summer.

Just over the Vermont border in Quebec, 88 miles from Montreal, are two lovely lakes, Magog and Mephamagog, and the little village of Magog which offers a delightful retreat in the Hermitage Country Club Inn for seekers after health, rest and mild exercise. The Owl's Head and Mt. Orford afford not too strenuous climbing, while boating and bathing are the chief pastimes.

Sixty miles northwest of Montreal lies the pretty Laurentian Mountains' resort of Val Morin with its comfortable Pineshurst Inn and cottages beside Lake Raymond. About three miles back from the railway by a wild, winding, wooded road, is hidden a delightful resort for those who enjoy a half-home, half-country club life. The big Highland Farms Inn hangs over a trout lake from which rises a young mountain in the shape of a huge sugar loaf. The broad windows of the livingroom-library look right down into the water. Trails with rustic bridges across intervening ravines, invite to rambles. Tennis and mountain climbing are more strenuous joys, while motors and horses are available for driving about the interesting country. A garden provides fresh fruit and vegetables, and the Inn dairy supplies plenty of milk and cream.

Oak Orchard Lodge on Upper Buckhorn Lake, one of Kawartha Lakes-chain in Ontario, is a revelation in luxury in the wild; private baths, brass beds and oriental rugs are found indoors, while running water and electricity are tent adjuncts. It is easily reached from Toronto via Bobcaygeon.

Orchard Point Inn, near Orillia, is another charming, restful summer hotel with long piazzas and bowling greens. Boating and bathing and fishing in 35-mile long Lake Simcoe are among its attractions.

DEATH IN COSMETICS NO HELP FOR HUMANS FROM MONKEY GLANDS

CHICAGO, June 11.—If American girls want to be pretty and healthy they must shun rouge, lip-sticks and mascara on their eye-lashes, declares Dr. H. N. Cole, Cleveland, to the American Medical Association here today.

That bit of advice was not the only woeful matter discussed at the radical convention today. "Monkey Glands" rejuvenation is a myth, like the fairy tale fountain of youth, according to Dr. Clarence A. McWilliams, prominent New York surgeon.

"The use of cosmetics has become unfortunately, more and more common," Dr. Cole said. "What was once considered poor form has now become the mode with women. Most women paint, all women use powders of different types. The average woman uses at least some of the long list of cosmetics. Yet many of these women are unaware of the danger they are running by such habits."

Dr. Cole outlined the dangers.

"In the first place there is the pure mechanical obstruction by creams, powders and rouges on the face. The pores in our skin were intended by nature to serve as lubricating and excretory ducts. If there are constantly closed off, it will injure the skin."

Lead in Cosmetics

"The most common offender in cosmetics is lead," he said. "It causes the well-known lead poisoning. This disease results in swelling and inflammation of the affected parts. It brings severe internal pains, intoxication, and sometimes death. And there are many more harmful materials in the various popular cosmetics."

Not even the husband who dutifully rubs tonic into his hair to please his wife is safe, according to the doctor. The tonic may contain carbolic acid, he said, citing a case in which said tonic containing carbolic acid caused a long illness.

"The American Medical Association reports that in their analysis of bleaches and freckle lotions they have found bichloride of mercury in solution as high as 1 to 200 and 28.2 to 1,000," he said.

The amounts of money American women spend on cosmetics are enormous, according to the doctor.

"In 1919 American women spent $205,000,000 in the useless and often harmful quest for beauty via the cosmetic path," he pointed out. "In 1921 manufacturers put out $75,000,000 more of cosmetics than they did in 1919."

And grandpas are likely to get in trouble if they dye their whiskers, he added.

Deeries Monkey Glands

Rejuvenation by monkey glands, or by any other kind of glands was officially branded as a myth by Dr. McWilliams.

He cited numerous instances in which such operations were tried and declared that the uniform result was disappearance of the grafted tissues.

"With all these isolated, multiple failures, a surgeon should not waste time or energy with organ grafts taken from another individual. Even between animals of the same species there are unknown differences that prevent the survival of the transplanted arteries."

Reported successes were ascribed to the fact that often the grafted organs "seemed to take." But they suddenly disappear, in a few weeks at most, he said.

But Dr. Cole held out some hope along with his "crepe hanging." The hope is "plastic surgery."

"With it a hideous deformity may be transformed into a scarcely noticeable disfigurement," he declared.

The "secrets" of school girls and the wrestling bouts of little boys cause the spread of serious epidemics.

ies, Dr. William F. Resner, assistant-commissioner of public health, Minneapolis, told the physicians.

"If two boys want to talk, they run to each other, and when only a foot apart, shout into each other's faces," he explained. "Girls of grammar school age have their arms around each other and their faces in close contact more often than otherwise. The girls tell their secrets in close-up whispers. And so the germs spread. Parents should teach their children at an early age to avoid the breath of others, as they would avoid a hot stove, or anything else that might kill them."

SHAKESPEARE'S STREAM IS RIVER OF DEATH NOW
(By International News Service)
LONDON, June 11.—The River Avon, beloved of Shakespeare and immortalized in his writings, has become a river of death. It still flows gently between wooded banks and through peaceful meadows, but it has become a martyr to the industrial development of England.

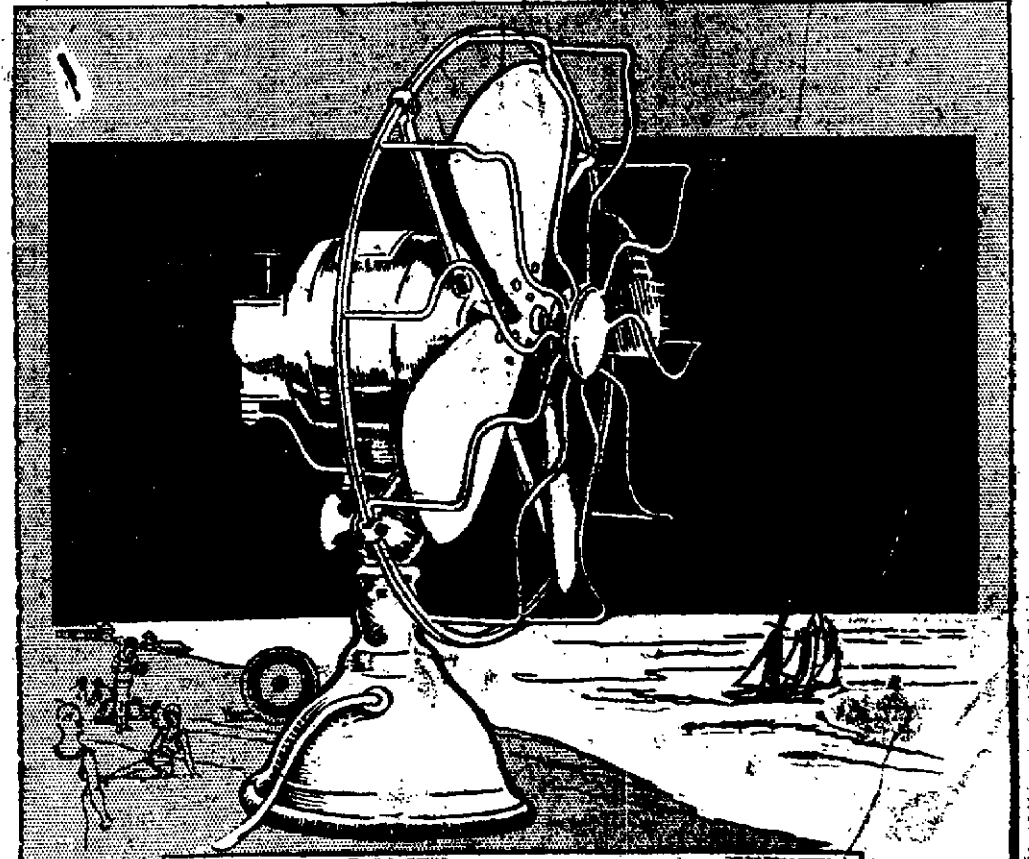

Pollution of the river by sewage from the industrial city of Coventry is responsible for what was once one of the most delightful streams in England becoming an evil-smelling river.

At one time the Avon was a favorite resort for anglers and teemed with fish. For more than two years no fish have been caught. Where water lilies used to bloom in profusion there are no flowers now. Boughs of trees that have leaned down to touch the waters have died.

Efforts are being made to induce the city of Coventry to make other arrangements for its sewage disposal.

Loyalty to those who are loyal will work reciprocal prosperity.

It is easier to get people to take your advice than it is to get them to use it.

ELEVEN BASE BALL MEN GIVEN THEIR LETTERS BY POTEET

Eleven members of the High School Black Cat baseball squad were given letters Thursday by Coach E. H. Poteet. Those who received letters had played at least 27 innings and were: W. B. Kendrick, Robert Storey, Robert Wallace, Wayne Lucas, Wayne Thompson, Jim Karner, Doyle Perkinson, Carlos Clover, Barnett Treadway, Loy (Dutch) Cox, and Rollin Maxwell.

Coach Poteet also announced that arrangement for the football camp to be conducted about two weeks before school starts were being made and from all indications there will be a large number of men attending it.

Baseball's red letter day this year was June 4. On that astounding afternoon Red Sox scrambled into first place and Athletics climbed out of cellar.

Like the shot heard round the world, Boston's rise to first place was memorable event. Only said feature was that Paul Revere wasn't there to spread the news to embattled Back Bay fans on village green waiting for the sporting editions of Boston papers.

Athletics, after pulling a Houdini to get out of last place, appear to be on the road to recovery and large gate receipts. Like Horatio Alger's heroes and the price of Scotch they are bound to rise.

Boxing public changes opinions quicker than mother-in-law getting first look at a new son-in-law's bank book. On Carpenter's first trip to this country he was acclaimed as a war hero and the only boxer brave enough to shoulder a musket. After Gibbons' imbroglia temperamental fans turned on Georges as if he was poor relative on annual visit.

A champion is always a shifty boxer because he gets that way from dodging matches with dangerous title contenders.

ROTARY KNOT HOLE CLUB COMMITTEE ENCOURAGES SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE AND HELPS BOYS GO TO BALL GAMES

Val Horn, of the Knot Hole Boys' Committee of the Mexia Rotary club, announces that the club is ready to carry on its program as conducted a part of last year, whereby the boys of Mexia may attend the Gusher baseball games for a nominal sum.

He has membership cards now ready which may be secured by any boy on application. The cards entitle each holder to admittance into the games for ten cents.

The cards read:
"Membership Card, auspices of Mexia Rotary club. This is to certify that (name of holder) attends Sunday School and is a member in good standing, entitled to the privileges of the club."

This is signed by the teacher of the Sunday School class of which the bearer is a member.

The card is non transferable and will be revoked on failure to comply with this obligation.

This ticket entitles the holder to admittance to all games, except opening day, July 4th, other holidays, double headers and Sundays.

The obligation is that the bearer will attend Sunday School every Sunday, except in case of sickness, will not use curse words or other bad language and will lead a clean life and will always be a rooter for the Mexia Baseball club."

DAYTON PREPARES FOR AIR CONTEST

DAYTON, O.—Arrangements are well under way here for the annual International Pulitzer air races, to be staged at the Wilbur Wright field in October.

Several hundred airplanes, capable of going at a speed of 250 miles an hour, will compete for prizes aggregating $50,000.

All highways and streets between Dayton and the field are being paved and 800 regular soldiers from Jefferson barracks will act as special patrol during the events. Dayton business men have subscribed $250,000 for the initial expenses of the races.

Thousands of motorists from adjoining states are expected and a plot of 20 acres near the field has been set aside for parking space.

Nearly every state in union will be represented in the races, as well as nearly every European nation. Belgium has promised to send two ships, and England probably will do likewise. Sadi Lecointe, the fastest flyer in France, and Brack Papa of Italy have signified their intention of competing.

The army air service will be represented by the two Curtiss racers which competed last year. They have been equipped with 500 horsepower motors, replacing the 400 horsepower motors used in the 1923 race. The pilots appointed to maneuver be represented by a new speed marvel.

The Barling bomber, the biggest ship in the world (is on the program for a series of spectacular flights. Lieutenant Harold R. Harris will be at the stick.

The Pulitzer race will be the main event of the meet, which last three days, beginning October 2. There are ten or twelve other events, including one for small planes, such as those driven by gasoline engines, capable of a long distance flight on a single gallon of gasoline.

For the amateur builders there are six or seven prizes. In addition to the various races, the Shenandoah and a flock of barnes, observation and other balloons will be here in a display of lighter than air machines.

Each evening there will be night flying by illuminated planes.

There has been some concern over the difficulty of housing the hundreds of planes expected to enter the races. Wilbur Wright Field can accommodate about 112. McCook Field can accommodate about 125 and two private fields about 50 each, but many will not be under roof during the races, it is said.

and light exercise is the "medicine" which is being used to cure thousands of insane people in this State, according to Dr. O. Floyd Haviland, head of the State Hospital Commission. According to Dr. Haviland, this plan of treating insane and mentally weak patients has emerged from the experimental stage and is a complete success.

Adult patients with minds like children have been so greatly improved by being fed work and exercises, instead of drugs and medicine, that their parole is possible. Others, whose disorders are incurable, are brought to a condition where it is much easier for attendants to care for them.

The system under which this is accomplished is known as mental therapy, and New York State was the first to adopt it in its institutions for the insane.

Few speeches have been made so far and nearly all of the campaigning done has been conducted face to face individually or through the mail.

LONDON STREET ARTISTS MAKE WAR ON IMPOSTERS

(By International News Service)
LONDON, June 19.—The street artists of London are up in arms against alleged imposters.

There are two varieties of street artists—those who create the works of art which they display and those who merely rent their works of art. The genuine artists who draw sickly pictures of the Prince of Wales are out to drive the hiring-artists from the street, and the police may have to intervene if the war continues.

State officials intend to go ahead with the work until all Connecticut roads are fit for motor-ing.

KANSAS WHEAT IS SAID TO BE FINE

TOPEKA, Kansas, June 14.—Wheat has ripened rapidly during the hot weather of the last few days and cutting will start in Southern Kansas in about a week, according to reports received here. While the crop has deteriorated some from the estimates of May 1, prospects are still that Kansas will have a good yield.

The grain is spotty, promising to yield well in some places while other fields have a poor stand.

Harvest hands are pouring into the state on every train, most of them are riding the freight trains, or taking advantage of reduced rates by railroads. About 40,000 extra hands from outside the state are needed.

Wages range from $3.50 to $4.00 plus board and keep.

Harvesting is already under way in Oklahoma and Texas and many workers are expected to drift north with the crop ripening, the army of workers gathering in numbers.

CAPTAIN FRANK HUGHES PIONEER CITIZEN LAID TO REST HERE SATURDAY

The funeral of Captain Frank Hughes who died Friday morning in Dallas at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. W. Cosnahan, was held Saturday afternoon from the First Presbyterian church of which he was a member. The services at the church were conducted by Rev. E. H. Hudson, pastor, and Dr. W. S. Red of Austin, a former pastor of the church, which was impressive, and was added to by some sweet music rendered by a picked choir.

He served several terms as assistant sergeant at arms of the Texas Senate, and had a wide acquaintance among public men. CHICAGO, June 14.—Flags are flying and the folks out in Evanston were out early today to greet "Charlie" Dawes, nominated for vice president on the Republican ticket.

Despite the request of Brigadier General Chas. G. Dawes that the home folks refrain from "fuss and feathers," a huge demonstration was planned. If Dawes does not give them the slip, a parade through Chicago to Dawes' home in Evanston will be staged.

Evanston, a suburb of Chicago is a mass of flags and bunting. The Dawes' home is filled with flowers sent by admirers from all parts of the country. Heaps of congratulatory telegrams are flowing in.

Dawes plans to drive right out to his home and stay there over the week end. Monday he is expected back at his office to whip his affairs into shape for the campaign.

PIPE ORANG STILL GOOD AFTER 116 YEARS' USE

(By International News Service)

MECHANICSBURG, Pa., June 14.—The second pipe organ to be built in America in 1807, is still in use, and, according to church records, has never been repaired.

This organ is installed in Old Peace Church, built near here in 1789. The church, one of the oldest in the country, for fifty years was used as a school house on week days and a church on Sundays.

The organ was purchased from Conrad Doll, an organ builder, who lived in Lancaster. The keys were made of wood, and the instrument had six stops. When completed the instrument had 300 pipes.

SPECTACULAR CASE BEING TRIED IN MISSOURI COURTS

LIBERTY, Mo., June 14.—The battle to break the will of Mrs. Julia Woods Davies, leaving an estate of $1,000,000 to Captain Harry Zeitun, once an interpreter in a London police court, today revealed a story of spectacular spending by a woman in search of adventure.

Witnesses told how Mrs. Davies, seeking thrills in Europe, fell under a "hypnotic influence" of Zeitun. They declared he encouraged her in the use of drugs, to which she had been addicted for years; cajoled the wealthy woman to appoint him as her secretary and then while under the influence of drugs, made a will leaving him her entire estate.

George Westlain Davies, an opera singer of St. Louis, the woman's fourth husband, and her two daughters Miss Ruth Rubey and Mrs. James Kemper of Kansas City brought the suit to have the will broken.

Trustees of the woman's estate said she had an income in excess of $1,000 a month. Her physician said she was insane from the use of drugs and alcoholics.

The will favoring Zeitun was made in London May 8, 1922 and Mrs. Davies died soon after.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Paul Wage of Tulsa, Oklahoma, a police character was arrested in connection with the mail robbery. Police said they found five $1000 bills and five $100 bills on Wage. The money, which was blood spattered, corresponded to the description of bills seized by the bandits. A man and woman were also arrested.

CHICAGO, June 14.—General Dawes received a hearty welcome on arrival this morning, but smilingly refused to make any statement on his vice presidential nomination. General Dawes said he would go to his office to attend to a "pile of business," and would later go to his suburban home to welcome neighbors who have planned a big celebration.

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—Questioning of officers and men of the battleship Mississippi brought forth nothing but the highest praise for the heroism shown in the gun turret explosion. Captain W. D. Brotherton, commanding officer of the ship, told the Naval Board inquiry that he blamed no one. "They all did their duty to the best of their ability," he said as he wept openly. The actual cause of the tragedy is still a mystery. The bodies were brought ashore in plain caskets decorated with the flag. A public funeral will be held Tuesday morning and then the bodies will be started home. Full honors will be accorded the dead.

Neighbor Lions Invaded Mexia Jungle Friday

On the evening of "Friday 13th" the Mexia Lions entertained the Lions clubs of Waco and Teague with a feed and a roaring good time at the Hurdleston Hotel. The visiting Lions attended in large and enthusiastic numbers and the "get together" was one of the most successful affairs of the season.

Lion President J. K. Hughes expressed his pleasure at Mexia's being host to so many interested neighbors and introduced Lion Dr. Jackson who welcomed the Waco and Teague Lions. Lion Tiley of Teague responded with a short speech in which he bespoke the gratitude of the visitors for an invitation to share in one of the Mexia Lions' always delightful entertainments. Lion Morgan as leader of the day, then took charge and the party moved along in characteristically snappy Lion fashion.

During the dinner the Elks orchestra furnished "jazz" music. Lion President Province of the Waco den spoke of the importance of every club sending a representative to the International Convention in Omaha, as every really live club is planning to do.

The feature of the evening was the Minstrel performance by the Waco Lions. Too much cannot be said in praise of the howling success it was, through the laughter and applause would be ample testimony to the quality of the jokes, the singing and the impersonations. It was put over with the "pep" that characterizes all the activities of the Waco Lions and was decidedly a hit. Lion Hughes voiced the appreciation of the local club for the obvious enjoyment afforded by the minstrel and cordially renewed the invitations of the Lions Clubs to "neighbor" with us.

FRANCE RULED BY SOCIALISTS

By WEBB MILLER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, June 14.—Socialist Government in France became a reality today when Edouard Herriot accepted the invitation of President Doumergue to form a new cabinet. Herriot expects his list of ministers will be completed before tonight and hopes to be ready to confer with Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain June 21.

Doumergue spent the morning in conference with leaders of the Left, all of whom advised him to summon M. Herriot to form a Government to replace the Marsal cabinet, which resigned yesterday as soon as the election of the new president of the Republic was announced.

Directors Name New Officers For Mexia C of C

The Board of Directors of the Mexia Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting held Friday afternoon, elected Hardy Eubanks President of the organization.

The meeting was called to order by Vice President L. S. Patterson who stated that the object of the gathering was to select a President and other officers.

Weaver Barnett placed in nomination Mr. Eubanks, stating that after much thought he believed Mr. Eubanks to be the man for the place. The vote given attested the unanimity of opinion of those gathered.

Noel Hollingsworth was elected First Vice President and Gene Sinclair Second Vice President.

Before accepting the office, Mr. Eubanks asked for a statement from the directors as to whether they could be counted on to give their whole souled support to the Chamber of Commerce in case he did accept. He was assured of such backing and consented to perform the duties of the office.

Mr. Eubanks succeeds John Sweatt to the office, Mr. Sweatt having served the past year.

He is also President of the Rotary club of Mexia and for the past three years has been actively identified with the activities looking to the development of Mexia.

Jerre Cason, the Secretary succeeding Ben F. Stollenwerck, is Secretary of the Lions club.

The new Board of Directors is as follows:

Cox Brodnax, W. W. Barnett, John G. Phillips, J. K. Hughes, J. W. Frickett, Phil Karner, F. P. Huchingson, L. S. Patterson, David Murphy, N. Hollingsworth, J. W. McLendon and Gene Sinclair.

The Advisory Board is composed of Blake Smith, Jack Womack, Dr. R. B. Jackson, and Mayor Ernest Watson.

With this strong official family, representing practically every interest of Mexia and of the Mexia community, the outlook for a year of real achievement is encouraging, according to those interested in the development of the section.

Mr. Eubanks is certain to give the Chamber of Commerce an administration that will be highly pleasing because of its achievements. He is a big man with a big job before him and is assured of the help of other big men who have the same high hopes of building here a bigger and better city.

HUGHES PARK HAS PLAYGROUND READY FOR THE KIDDIES

R. D. Morgan has completed the work of installing the playground equipment in Hughes Park. The local park now has more equipment than the famous Cameron Park at Waco and more than is to be found in any single park in Texas. The public is urged to go to see what has been done through the efforts of Mesdames W. W. Barnett, George Peyton, John Sweatt and R. D. Morgan and by the generosity of J. K. Hughes who not only presented the park but the money for the equipment also.

U. S. RANKS HIGH FOR OLYMPIC POLO

By PERCY M. SARTRE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, June 13.—It looks like the finals for the Olympic polo championship will be confined to the United States, Argentine and Great Britain. Such is the impression gained from talks with the leading players of these countries, now in England for practice and sharpening-up with a view to triumph at Paris.

British, Argentine and American players are not greatly worried about possible French, Spanish or other opponents. They have their eyes on each other.

Jack Nelson, Argentina's brilliant captain, is quietly confident of beating England—if Argentina meets them—but is not quite sure about America.

The reason that Nelson is doubtful about America is that there is somewhat of an "if" about Argentina and Great Britain. There is apparently some about the United States team.

The present Argentine team is of an experimental character, as the members had not, prior to arrival in England played together as a team. As regards ponies, no fears are entertained, for Jack Nelson told me that his string of 33 animals is far superior to those brought over for the matches with England last year.

As regards individual players, Nelson is quite satisfied. A Kenny, the Argentine No. 1, is a magnificent player and one of the best amateur jockeys in the southern republic. Kenny was unable to make the voyage last year and the "Big Four" earned international fame. Unfortunately for Argentina only two of them are left to contest the Olympic championship. At the last moment Davis Miles was unable to make the journey and Lacey is barred, under Olympic rules, owing to not having been born in the Argentine—actually he was born in Canada, I believe. Argentina's bad luck will probably prove England's fortune, for Lacey, not wishing to drop out of international polo, has intimated his readiness to accept selection for the British team which will visit America in September to fight for the international cup. His selection is almost a forgone conclusion.

Reverting to the Argentine team, David Miles' absence may not be an insurmountable difficulty, for it necessitates Jack Miles playing No. 3, and Captain Nelson says that is really his proper position. For the important position of "back" the Argentinians have Captain Padilla, a player who in early practice matches earned golden opinions here. Captain Nelson plays No. 2. The reserve will be Brooke Naylor.

The United States lineup will be: "Tommy" Hitchcock, of the Aiken Polo Club; Rodman Wanamaker, Bryn Mawr Polo Club; Elmer J. Roeseke, Jr., Santa Barbara Polo Club; Frederick Roe, Bryn Mawr Polo Club; reserve, George Moore, Santa Barbara Club.

Hitchcock is recognized as one of the best men playing today. His lightning dashes up the field in the famous Milburn team which won the Westchester Cup from England a couple of years ago are still remembered here with painful admiration.

Rodman Wanamaker is fairly well known here, and is classed as "plus 6" under British rules. I personally think his handicap will be largely increased before this season is ended. At present, one cannot say that the United States team compares with the "Big Four" which won the Westchester Cup, but they are fine players and well mounted. Hitchcock himself might win any match.

He does not think he will be able to attend the big convention but as he begins to receive a mass of mail in regard to the affair, he finds his interest in the meeting constantly increasing.

ST. MARY'S WONDERFUL GROWTH RELATED AT BANQUET GIVEN REV. JOSEPH KELLEY, PASTOR

St. Mary's Rectory was the scene Thursday evening of a banquet tendered to Rev. Joseph Kelley, pastor of the local Catholic church, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of his elevation to the priesthood, half of which period being the time spent with the Mexico church.

Miss Catherine McGrail arranged the evening of entertainment, which was participated in by many friends of the honoree. A sumptuous banquet prepared by the ladies of the church, followed by after dinner speeches, music and readings featured the unusually brilliant affair.

Rt. Rev. C. E. Byrne, Bishop of Galveston, Father Heckman of Waco, and Messrs. McGrail and Felz, local patriarchs of the Catholic church of this city were honor guests of the occasion, and who joined by presence or by speech in paying their respects to Rev. Kelley.

Others present were David Murphy, who served as toastmaster, J. Sandford Smith, J. K. Hughes, Jack Womack, Dr. Lennie McCall, John Maddox, R. B. Mosley, John Corley, Jr., E. Nussbaum, F. P. Hutchinson, Gray Forrest, Jim Prickett, W. S. Banks, E. L. Smith, W. B. Kendrick, and A. Garland Adair of The News.

Mr. Murphy stated the purpose of the banquet which was to commemorate the fifth anniversary of Father Kelley's rise to the priesthood and to congratulate him upon his noteworthy achievements while in Mexico.

He asked the Bishop, Rt. Rev. Byrne to speak first and to tell of whatever shortcomings he knew to exist in Rev. Kelley. Rt. Rev. Byrne responded in his own earnest way, saying among other things that Father Kelley was one of his own products and that he was very proud of him and of his record. He stated that it was unusual to witness a banquet given to one so young in years and so young in the church. "The Catholic church is so old, its history goes back so far in the centuries, that the custom generally observed is not to honor a pastor until he has served about a half a century" said Rt. Rev. Byrne. The speaker said that he had seen 25 young men under his ministry in recent years who had entered the priesthood, Rev. Kelley being one of them. He was glad to know that he had made good among the non Catholic citizens of the community who had assisted materially in bringing about the achievements and growth of the local church. It was his hope, he said, that Rev. Kelley would not view the occasion in any other but the spirit of humility. He also paid a tribute to the women who had done the biggest part of the work in building the Mexico property up to its present value.

Father Heckman also was introduced and spoke in humorous fashion, concluding by sharing in the words of commendation for Father Kelley. He said that he preached the funeral of a priest in Waco not long ago and an old fashioned negro of the Baptist faith was present and heard the sermon. He later asked her how she liked his sermon. She said: "It was simply fine, you see, he do fast white man I ever seen who could preach like a nigger." He said the occasion reminded him of that gathering only that the nice things then said was for the dead, while those spoken on this occasion were for the living. He also told another joke, saying that Father Kelley, not long ago was in the Provident Sanitarium at Waco. While under the influence of an anesthetic the nurse pulled the blind down. Later when he became conscious, he asked if it was night or day. To

(this the nurse told him that it was day but that there had been a fire in the neighborhood and she had pulled the blind down for fear that he might awake and think that the operation had been a failure. In a more serious vein, he congratulated these present on their liberal views which he said typified the best in American life. Also he paid a high tribute to the ladies who had been so loyal and zealous in their untiring efforts in building the church and rectory here within the past two and a half years.

The toastmaster also called on the following: W. S. Banks, J. Sandford Smith, E. L. Smith, J. Esenberg, A. Garland Adair and J. K. Hughes.

The banqueters were delighted with readings by Master Jack Vanneman, who presented his first number in such manly and pleasing style that a second was demanded.

Solo contributions were also rendered by Mrs. F. Flynn and Mrs. J. Loxery. These ladies are members of St. Mary's choir and their favors were greatly enjoyed.

At the conclusion of the program during which Father Kelley was presented with several checks and an order for a suit of clothes, he was called upon to respond to the addresses made. He stated how deeply he appreciated the banquet occasion which was a distinct surprise to him, knowing as he did the custom of the church not to honor a man in its service until he had spent a quarter of a century or more actively engaged in its welfare. He said that he hoped that Bishop Byrne would grant him a few days of grace so that he might enjoy what had been said of him with some degree of pride before he took on the spirit of humility recommended and to which he agreed as the most becoming virtue. He assured all present of his friendship in return for theirs and told them not to hesitate to call on him at any time and to make themselves at home in his home. He claimed little credit for what had been done in Mexico, saying that the credit should go to the women whom he had selected for the work and to Protestants as well as Catholics for the finances which had made the local church property what it was. He recounted his experiences and hardships, as well as the successes, in Mexico. When he was sent here by Bishop Byrne two and a half years ago, he declared that he could not find a man in Mexico who knew where the Catholic church was located. He finally discovered it himself near the Sumpter Street Grammar School. There he asked a boy if that was the Catholic church. On being told that it was, he went inside and found the place dilapidated and with none of the essentials for a service scarcely to be found. He had to live in Teague during those days. His first service on Sunday here found only twelve persons present. And today the local church property, the rectory, the St. Mary's church and the lots they are located on and the paving represent a value of $40,000. He said that the non-Catholic citizens of this community had paid, he verily believed, $25,000 of that amount. It was, therefore, natural for him to feel deeply appreciative of all acts of friendship, and of all service rendered. The men present, he said, had contributed largely to the cause, at the same time deploring that many others who had aided them were not present on the occasion. It was his hope, he declared, that the gathering would result in cementing more closely the ties of friendship, thereby opening wider the field of service by which all might be benefited.

MRS. HICKMAN ENTERTAINS AN ALL DAY PARTY

A most enjoyable affair recently given was an "all day" party of the "13" Sewing Club at the home of Mrs. Rush Hickman.

Each member of the club brings an appetizing dish for their "all day" affair, the consequent menu being that of a dinner of choice and substantial proportions. Mrs. Hickman's home was bright and fragrant with the various flowers of spring, the dining table presenting a charming picture with its dress of exquisite linen, sparkle of China and silver and its center piece of jessamines.

Broiled spring chicken, rice, gravy, new English peas, beans and potatoes with ham bone, tomatoe and lettuce salad, strawberry preserves, chow chow, pickled beets, ice tea, ice cream and angel food cake, were hugely enjoyed by all.

Shortly after dinner when all were busily engaged with their sewing, a most unusual type of peddler came to the door and upon being admitted to the house displayed various articles, lace, hose, pins, etc. The "dago" brogue of the peddler, her seriousness and perfect good disguise, did not readily lead to her being recognized as the charming hostess of the day.

Another clever plan of the hostess for entertaining her guests was on original contest called "Know Each Other." Where the answer to the questions are the names of the members of the club.

"Know Each Other"

1. A flower (Blossom) and what do when we get hot? (Sweatt.)
2. A place where poppies grow, a letter (Francis) and a person of nobility (King.)
3. Part of an old song (Nila) what do we do when we do wrong and the name of a girl (Sinclair.)
4. One of the months (May) and one who makes and tends a garden (Gardner.)
5. The sound of a letter—Miss Kennedy's brother's name (Elen) a hole, and a grown boy (Pittman.)
6. Her first is the name of a boy and girl (Leila.) What you do when you settle an account and 2,000 lbs. (Peyton.)
7. A boy's name—what some people call their mother (Alma) and a servant (Cook.)
8. The way some people cut the neck of their dress, an epoch of history (Vera) a country jay and a city dude (Hickman.)
9. Her first is a precious stone (Pearl) a millionaire, a letter and a preposition (Goodsby.)
10. A capital letter, past tense of atc (Kate) and a grove of trees (Forest.)
11. A Biblical name (Mary an exclamation, and the name of an old Mexia family (Howard.)
12. An insect, fifth letter of the alphabet, and two letters alike (Bess) a coop (i) two letters of alphabet and a boy (Hutchison.)
13. I can't tell you her first, if I did you'd know her last, but the first letter of her given name is to behold (Clara.) Her last name is the name of a Mexia Banker's boy and two letters that sound like a story when it's concluded (Stevens.)

These thirteen friends enjoy each other and their work very much and especially do they enjoy such a gracious hostess as Mrs. Hickman.

Mrs. Perry, guest of Mrs. John Sweatt, was an out of town guest.

W. R. BOYD MAKES APPEAL FOR VOTES IN 77TH DISTRICT

Hon W. R. Boyd of Teague was in Mexia Saturday and issued his formal announcement for District Judge of the 77th Judicial District, comprised of Limestone and Freestone counties. He says:

To the Democratic Voters of Limestone and Freestone Counties:

Sometime ago, I announced my candidacy for Democratic nomination for the office of District Judge of the 77th Judicial District composed of Limestone and Freestone counties. I have resided in Freestone county for 55 years, and have actively engaged in the practice of law continuously for the past 35 years, and feel that such experience well qualifies me for such position.

It would be a pleasure for me to see all of you in person, and personally solicit the support of each, but this will hardly be possible.

I trust that those who do not know me will make a visit to me to both my persona, and professional qualifications for this office.

I believe in, and have always stood for the strict enforcement of all our laws; for an economical administration of all our public affairs and for as rapid dispatch of the business of the courts, as is consistent with the rights of litigants.

If elected District Judge, I pledge the giving of all my energies, and the best that is in me to the fulfillment of the duties of that office.

I will make an effort to see each and all of you in person at some time prior to the election. And in the meantime I court from each and all a full investigation of myself, and trust that you will favor me with your vote and active influence.

W. R. BOYD.

FORMER PASTOR OF MEXIA CHURCH IS VISITOR WEDNESDAY

Rev. F. C. Laslette, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Mexia was in town for a few hours Wednesday and Thursday chatting with his many local friends. He is to speak at Teague July 6, also at Lufkin June 22 for Dr. Solomon who is pastor of the Methodist church there. Dr. Solomon is well known in Mexia and is one of the strongest preachers in Texas.

Dr. Laslette tells a wonderful story in connection with his work as State lecturer for the Near East Relief.

285 girl students at the San Marcos Baptist Academy pledged themselves to forgo breakfast every Sunday morning and give its cost to the Near East Relief which means that every Tuesday morning a check for $25 reaches the State office of the Near East Relief in Dallas, and which also means that 147 homeless waifs are fed, clothed and sheltered every day because of the sacrifice of these San Marcos girls, for 95 per cent of all money collected for Armenia reaches the people of that destitute and stricken land.

Dr. Laslette will leave soon for California where he will supply for three Sundays for one of the pastors of one of the leading Presbyterian churches of that State. He will return to Texas in September and will speak at Bryan soon after his return.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

THE HOUSE BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD (S. W. Foss)

Let me live in my house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by,
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scornful seat,
Nor hurl the cynic's ban,
Let me live in the house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

FLAG DAY

There is no such red in the reddest rose,
There is no such blue in the skies,
There is no such white in the winter snows,
As we see when Old Glory flies.
Prince and potentate know those colors; slave and serf understand their meaning. Tropics and arctic alike have seen their gleam.

Anglo Saxon civilization has taught the individual to respect his own rights. American civilization has taught the individual that "I am my brother's keeper." Anglo Saxon civilization has taught the individual that the world is his for his own selfish conquest. American civilization has taught the individual that "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God and thy neighbor as thyself." Anglo Saxon civilization has carried its flag into every land and on every sea and fortified it with fort and garrison. American civilization has implanted its flag in the hearts of all who love Liberty.

"Time's noblest offspring is the last."
To all true Americans the flag of our country has but one meaning:

"Liberty!"
"There is no such thing as an American literature," Americans are told by the critics of the Old World.

They may be right from their own standpoint.
But to those who see with clear eyes, the story of America, the real epic of the mightiest nation on earth today, is told by deeds if not by words. That tale is written on no scrap of fading paper, but it is carved deep and large for all the world to read, carved across three thousand miles of a continent above which flies the dominant flag of the Stars and Stripes which has never felt the heel of a foe. The story which the American flag holds within its gleaming folds is one besides which Iliad and Odyssey pale as nursery tales for babes. Now the tale is written in the etching on the skylines of great cities and over fields of toil where Liberty-loving men and women live by the sweat of their brow. It is the story of the wondrous rise of a nation, from a few huddled huts on a broad prairie or in tangled wild woods, skirting a few miles of the Atlantic's Ocean line, until today it has taken its place in the forefront of the powers of the world. And ever above this inspiring history, has floated majestically that banner born so long ago in the home of Betsy Ross in Philadelphia.

On the 14th of June, 1777, the flag, our flag first saw the light of a new day.

Today the name of that little woman who made the first flag, Betsy Ross, gleams high in letters of gold among the world's immortals.

Since that day, many millions of American mothers have contributed gloriously to the service of their country. Every true American home today is a shrine just like the little brick house at 339 Arch Street, where the flag was born. Made in a home by a woman, it must be protected in homes by her offspring.

Bright with steel and red with blood is the path which the American flag has traveled. Americans must never forget that it was by sacrifice and through hardships that the Stars and Stripes has been handed down to us to love, to honor and to obey, to protect and cherish and to teach our children to keep and honor with a love that leads to supreme unselfish sacrifice and service upon the altar of our home and country.

When you see this flag go by, let all Americans stand with bowed heads as it floats past. Some may deride the expression of all noble sentiments, but do your duty even in the face of fire. Other flags are honored because of their past, but the American flag is to be honored not only because of its history but also because of its promises for tomorrow.

The American flag is the hope of the world.

With the political year now on; with great issues being discussed; with this Flag day bringing its thrilling story to the sons of men, it becomes more apparent than ever that these United States must take her place with the leading nations of the earth in a League of Nations to make the last war truly the last. The ideals of Woodrow Wilson will ultimately prevail, for they were the ideals written in every thread of our star-spangled banner.

THE COMMISSION PLAN

Description, the people elect a commission of five persons who are responsible both for legislation and for the administration of the city. They are elected at large on a non-partisan ticket. One of the Commissioners is named Mayor, usually by his colleagues but his powers are ceremonial only.

The rank and file of city employees may or may not be under civil service.

The five commissioners sitting together pass ordinances and determine administrative policies as a board. The work of the city is organized into five departments, with one commissioner at the head of each department.

Arguments pro. All the affairs of the city are centralized in the hands of a commission which can be easily watched by the voters. Election at large assures a high type of man in public office. Election of only five makes it possible for the people to know all about all the candidates. A small group can transact business with more facility than a large council. The commission is responsible for both the tax rate and the service.

Arguments Contra. Commission government is five headed administration. Administrative policies therefore are a series of compromises. The head of a department finds himself constantly overruled by the vote of other members. One of two results follows: either friction develops among the members or each commissioner is permitted to go his own way without consideration of other departments or the city as a whole. The city gets five little governments.

The commissioners being elected on a political platform, are rarely good executives and scarcely ever experienced in the administration of municipal activities.

Many popular and trustworthy persons who would make good members of a legislative body are not by nature fitted to be executive heads of a city government.

The appropriating power and spending power are in the same hands, which encourages extravagance.

MEXIA'S PARK A JOY FOREVER

If you are in favor of a public playground go by Hughes park the first opportunity and you will see a sight that will please your eye and rejoice your heart. If you are not in favor of the public playground, drive by the same park and see an argument against your belief which will forever set you right on the subject. The park now needs that band shell, seats for the grown-ups and nurses with little children. The equipment already set up gives Mexia the best playground to be found in any city park in Texas. It's all due to the generosity of the Hughes family and to the work of Mesdames R. D. Morgan, John Sweatt and George Peyton working as a committee and the help rendered by Mrs. W. W. Barnett, President of the Civic's League. Its immediate installation is due to the personal supervision and contribution of time and interest by R. D. Morgan of the city of Mexia. The park now needs the support of the citizenship, so that a permanent caretaker may be employed to look after the valuable property, to keep the park up to a high standard in appearance and to make it most serviceable to this community. Mexia citizens ought to be proud of their park and make it ever better. What has been done so far has been done without expense to the tax payers or private citizens of Mexia, outside of these herein mentioned.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

SERMONS IN STONE

The Rotarian

There seems to be a rather well-defined analogy between the architecture of our places of business, and the methods by which business is conducted. In pioneer days, practically every American factory was notable for one thing, namely, its utility.
There was no particular beauty in the succession of right angles which distinguished the building, and with a few notable exceptions, the business-creed was "Business is business—get while the getting's good."

With the softening of the struggle for existence came a new form of business architecture—and a new code. The angular buildings were embellished by a profusion of florid ornaments, more or less inappropriate.
Intended to decorate and relieve the harsh angles, these Corinthian touches usually had the opposite effect, for their cornucopias and foliage served but to make the straight lines of the building a shade more evident. So into the business conscience there came an abundance of high-flown theory, good in itself but often glos-sious in its application. Overstressed efficiency was paralleled by the Boosters' Club type of advertising, and men who made a fetish of statistics were matched by men who talked glibly of "vision" meaning thereby hallucination rather than perspective.
This gingerbread type of architecture still exists, and so does the business mind which tries to reconcile unethical method and ethical protestation.

But there are signs of improvement both in architecture and in business.
The new generation, still further relieved from immediate necessity, looks at its critics with a calmly critical eye, and then sends for the architect and landscape gardener. It is no longer sufficient to erect a new building. If your building is to be hailed as a contribution to the city's progress it must be one whose design is not too glaring, and whose dimensions fit into the city design which has supplanted the old haphazard method. So, in our business methods, it is not enough to talk, we must act. No amount of glaring billboards to proclaim our good intentions or the qualities of our product will save us, if not accompanied by a genuine service to the community and a well-defined respect for the rights of employees. There is an Ionic simplicity in business methods as in architecture, something which commands even as it serves, something which gets straight to the point and halts there. We like it just as instinctively as we like a child, and for the same reason—the absolute candor which we sense even before we prove it. As childhood is beautiful in its simplicity, yet no less precious because of its beauty, so clear-cut business ethics combines the eminently practical with the attractively

In business as in architecture, we should build not alone for the present, but for the future, not alone for our own profit, but for the good of the whole community. History teaches that beauty, honesty, and nobility of purpose, will outlast many buildings and many businesses. It was a wise philosopher who said that the achievements of the ages could be summed up in a few emotions.

The Mexia oil field district now is in the spotlight as the most interesting of all Texas sections to the wildcatter, to the oilbroker and to operators who keep their eyes on the most promising areas. In every direction, the wildcat is getting busy. There are the new tests of Freestone county, others in adjoining counties, the Speight test, south of town, the test near Hubbard, the test near Thornton, another near Kosse and promised activity at Groesbeck.

Concerning the operations around Groesbeck, The Groesbeck Journal
the past week says:

"There are more indications of well drilling and oil development in the Groesbeck territory at this time than there has been at any time during the year. The reasons for this are rather varied. One of them is the fact that following the drilling up of the Powell field all the companies struck out to the northeast of that pool in the full expectation that another area of big production would be found to the northward. Several structures were taken up through the tier of counties northeast of Powell and a large drilling campaign was put under way several months ago. The results have demonstrated apparently that it was a case of chasing the rainbow and both the major companies and the smaller investors who followed their lead to the northward have so far encountered nothing but another experience. Soon after this situation became apparent drilling was undertaken along the line of the producing fields to the southwest of Powell with the result that another pool of high grade oil has been found at Richland, approximately between Powell and Currie fields. Thus with the field to the northward found unpromising and with Powell, Richland, Currie and Mexia making the southward trend of production along the Balcones fault—with Luling to the southward showing the existence of production still further to the south it is only natural that the likelihood of big production in one or a number of pools, southwest of the Mexia field along the fault should appeal to development.

Added to these inducements for operations is the further fact that at Kosse the Humphreys Jones well and at Groesbeck the Humphreys Welch
No. 2 each were oil wells in the opinion of all who saw them in action and proved the existence of "productive sands" in both strictures. Due to these combinations of circumstances it is understood that at least three wells will be put under way within a month. In addition to these operations are the likelihood of others as indicated by the arrival of two scout geologist crews arriving here this week to work out structures in the Groesbeck territory. The Journal feels that an oil well in its own back yard is nearer at hand than ever before."

THE IRON GATE OUGHT TO SLOW 'EM UP A LITTLE

GAINESVILLE, Texas, June 14.—After two years of effort, John T. McCutcheon, local jeweler, has completed a safety device which he claims will make grade crossing accidents next to impossible. Railroad men who have seen a working model of the invention declared it to be entirely practical and successful.

Two years ago, McCutcheon and his wife had a narrow escape at a grade crossing. He decided then and there to work out a device that would protect motorists at crossings where the view of the track is obstructed.

The invention consists of a series of levers and controls, automatically operated by electricity. At the approach of a train, an electric circuit is completed and a red flag, a red light, and a warning bell start in motion at the crossing. In addition, iron gates are automatically lowered on each side of the crossing to prevent careless drivers disregarding the warnings.

ENGLAND HAS AN ACTIVE VOLCANO

LONDON (United Press).—England at last has an active volcano. And Londoners and others are cheerfully paying 1 shilling 6 pence to witness it in eruption.

The volcano is one of the exhibits of the New Zealand section of the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley Park, and is an extraordinarily faithful reproduction of the Rotornua Volcano in that Dominion.

Three or four eruptions daily delight spectators, and there are continuous pools of boiling mud, clouds of steam and a geyser hissing never-ending columns into the air.

Demonstrations are given how one can cook food in the boiling pools, boil eggs for breakfast and wash clothes without having to pay a gas bill.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Western Producing & Drilling Company, a corporation, and G. E. Kadane, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Limestone County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Groesbeck, Texas, on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1924, the same being the 4th day of August, A. D. 1924, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 10th day of January, A. D. 1924, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court as No. 4221-B, wherein Cobb-Bennett Hardware Company, a partnership composed of C. J. Cobb and R. B. Bennett, is Plaintiffs, and Western Producing & Drilling Company, a corporation, and G. E. Kadane, are Defendants, and said petition alleging:

That Western Producing & Drilling Company, is a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Delaware with a permit to do business in Texas; that said defendants on or about August 1, 1922, executed its note to plaintiffs in the sum of $812.57, payable at Mexia, Texas, on August 1st, 1923, said note bearing 8% interest from date thereof, and providing in the usual form for 10% attorney's fees; said note signed "Western Producing & Drilling Company, By G. E. Kadane, Vice President;" that at the time of making said note, said G. E. Kadane promised plaintiff that in the event the Western Producing & Drilling Company did not pay same when it became due he personally would pay it and carry out all the provisions contained on the face thereof. That said note has been placed in the hands of attorneys for collection, and plaintiffs has agreed to pay them the 10% stipulated therein as attorney's fees, same being a reasonable amount. That said note is past due and unpaid, and defendants, though often requested, have failed and refused and still fail and refuse to pay same or any part thereof.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Groesbeck, Texas, this 26th day of May, A. D. 1924.

SARTORIAL PICTURE GALLERIES

THE smart Parisienne wears on the street conservative costumes, sober in color, and elegant of line, but there is always about them some intriguing note. What a charming idea it is, for instance, to open the plain dark coat frock on the left of brown Frostkrepe, on such a smart lingerie trimming, with brown buttons, drawn thread work and garter lace. This idea of concealing, as it were, one layer of the costume under another is popular in Paris, according to Henri Grange, fashion authority. Sometimes this leads to extravaganzas, as in the case of the lady on the right who displays on her white satin de Lyon inner vest a scene which apparently depicts the Prince of Wales coming to grief on the hunting field.

TO THINE OWN SELF BE TRUE

By MISS ELISE GIBSON
Salutatorian Mexia High School

By MISS ELISE GIBSON
Class mates, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have chosen a subject for this evening that comes straight from my heart, it is, being true to oneself. I am no accomplished speaker, but it is quite a pleasure to stand before my class mates of '24 and this vast audience and tell you some of the things that come to my mind. With the knowledge that an ordinary person has, he should feel that his knowledge might help someone who is less fortunate than he in obtaining an education. "Let the whole world know what you know, but do not try to show that you don't know," is a good maxim.

Carlyle also says, "Be true if you would be believed." What a tremendous value that sentence has—One might easily apply it to his everyday life. Do we ever stop to think, are we being true to ourselves? In being true to oneself, one is being true to others. The three greatest assets to one's character are: Truth, honesty and self sacrifice. When we learn well the motives which prompts us to certain actions then let us be honest in our dealings with others. When we perform an act, let us then turn our eyes inward and see if the act was selfish. If it was, let us be frank enough to let the other fellow see that it was.

Self sacrifice is a lesson which will logically follow the development of truth and honesty. If a person is true with himself and honest with his associates, he will have developed to such an extent that he will find no genuine happiness not inspired by service to others.

I have to live with myself so I want to be fit for myself to know. I don't

COOPER ENTERS STUDEBAKER IN ALTOONA RACES

ALTOONA, Pa., June 15.—Earl Cooper, sensational winner of second place in the recent Indianapolis Speedway classic with his Studebaker Special, has arrived here and gone into training for the second annual international championship race on Flag Day, June 14.

Paul Sheedy, general manager of the Altoona board oval, went all the way to Indianapolis to persuade Mr. Cooper to race for the $25,000 purse in the big 250-mile meet.

Veteran A Favorite

Cooper's record breaking speed in the 200-lap grind at Indianapolis, when he was pushing his Studebaker Special at 105 miles an hour and taking the turns without slackening his speed, makes him a favorite contender in the race here.

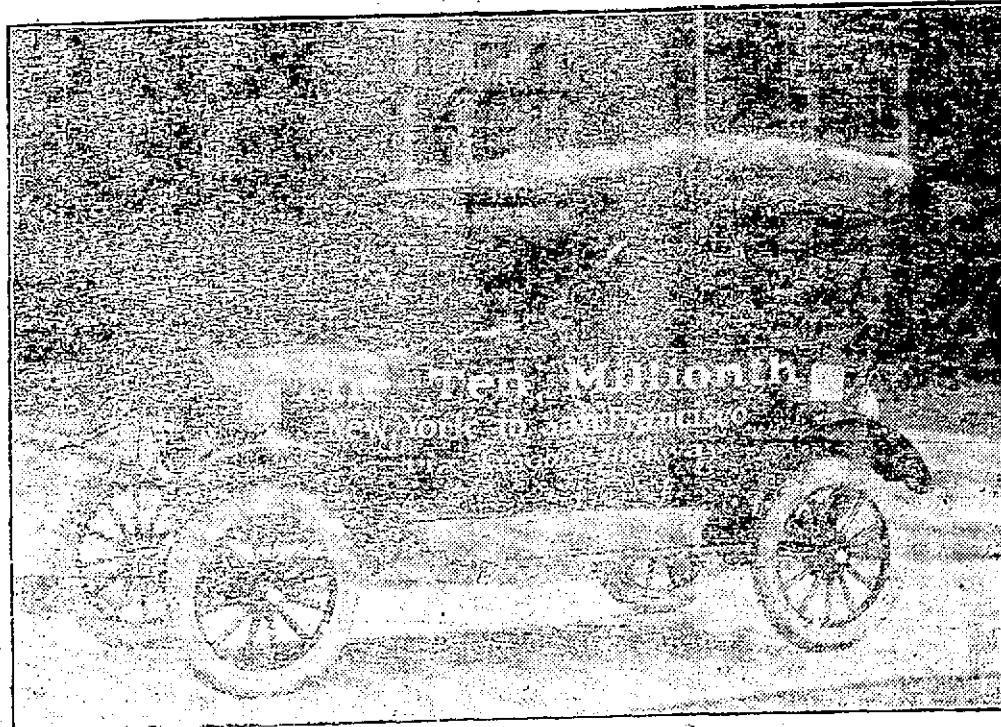

The Altoona track is known as the world's fastest course. Drivers must qualify at a speed of at least 100 miles an hour. The Studebaker Special's pilot did the 500-mile distance in Indianapolis in 3:58:17.18 time, at an average of 97.27 miles an hour. Jimmy Murphy made a record in 1922 when he did it in 4:13 miles an hour.

Cooper led most of the race at Indianapolis, jockeying at times with Murphy. It was when he was past the 125-mile post that tire trouble delayed him, and Joe Boyer moved ahead in a Pacerberg. Even then, the speed merchant, Cooper, finished second with less than a lap behind the winner.

Railroad dopsters believe Cooper is due to make 1921 his greatest year in his fourteen years of racing. They point out that his hard luck in 1923 prevented him from being a track sensation. Leading in every race—including the opening of the Altoona track—he snarled into trouble when a few laps from the finish.

Click Change His Luck
But his luck changed at Indianapolis on Decoration Day. The superstitions ones say it was brought about by the avalanche of letters and good-luck messages sent him by feminine racing fans from all over the country. Cooper sent out a worried S O S for some one to be his "Lady Luck." And nearly 1,000 girls volunteered to inspire him to victory.

All the other racers concede that Cooper, driving at a record pace, and leading most of the race, should have capped the checkered flag. But he did get second. Cooper thinks it means a new deal of the cards. He

Germany Sees Better Days

By CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, June 14.—Germany is rapidly recovering from her fall and winter "starvation."

Unemployment is now considerably less than in England, and is rapidly getting down to a pre-war standard. In Berlin, it is now no greater than before the war.

Stability of the rentenmark has made it possible for the cities to get sufficient funds from the country and from abroad. Last fall and winter the cry of starvation was in part due to poor distribution, partly to the fact that the junkers would not accept the sliding paper mark, and partly to the fact that the industrial situation threw many out of work.

There was a certain pinch for a few months, but Germany's weather did not care for their own as they could have. That is admitted, even by professional child feeders.

Now, that nearly everybody is again at work, the starvation cry is diminishing. It has also grown dimmer since the Dawes report showed

ed that Germany is intrinsically sound, and can again come to the front if given a brief breathing space and a temporary financial lift.

Child feeding continues in the schools, as there are admittedly many children suffering from a chronic undernourishment. Whether this admirable work can be continued during the vacation period is in question.

But there is no longer the extreme anxiety that was felt last fall. The German is prone to exaggerate his woes, especially since the war, and he saw the winter through extremely dark spectacles.

However, the rentenmark has completely changed the national viewpoint. The housewife can now buy and she can also save.

Moreover, the prospect of a real reparations settlement, even if it brings with it severe burdens, is proving a relief. Most Germans are now saying, "We will again have a chance to work and to save; the Dawes plan will make it possible for us to get out of the mire and to become again self-supporting and self-respecting."

Keep on telling 'em and you keep on selling them.

Whole Village Of Americans In One Dwelling

WASHINGTON, — The National Geographic Societies' expedition headed by Neil M. Judd, is now working in the ruins of Pueblo Bonito, New Mexico, giant "apartment house" of prehistoric homes. More than 300 rooms have been cleared and many kivas, or circular ceremonial chambers, already have been exposed. The explorations revealed that Pueblo Bonito was a busy village within a single dwelling: When inhabited, it stood four stories high, included some 800 rooms, and sheltered 1200 or more persons.

No written record or hieroglyphic inscription was left by these ancient Americans. But it already is possible to piece together their life story from the evidence of the silent walls of their abandoned rooms and the scattered objects recovered from their deserted dwelling. Their daily activities, their civic organizations, their communal enterprises and their struggles against more warlike tribes can be pictured. It is evident that the Bonitans, who lived in what now is the Chaco Canyon National Monument, in northwestern New Mexico, probably had the most pretentious settlement in the southwestern United States in pre-Columbian times.

With the penetration of the Pueblo Bonito ruins, the early history of America has begun to attract world interest—an interest being augmented with the sending of a National Geographical Society Expedition to uncover the great mound of Cuicuico in the Valley of Mexico, which may be 8000 years old.

SEVENTH COURT HOUSE IS NOW GOING UP IN LIMESTONE

GROESBECK, Texas, June 15.—Limestone County's seventh Court House is now well under way and will likely be completed by January 1st, A. D. 1925. The marble coping around the top is being put in place and plasterers have been at work finishing the inside of the building for more than a month now.

This new structure occupies the block just east of where the old building now stands and will be even more conveniently located as to the business section of the city than was the old building. It is a poured concrete frame, heavily reinforced, with outside finish of faced brick and dressed marble, and will be fire proof throughout. The grounds will be filled in and beautified with trees and shrubs and its surroundings improved generally. The building was designed by the Rice Engineering Company and is being constructed by the Rice Construction Company both concerns of Amarillo, Texas.

There are three stories and a basement to the building, two district court rooms to care for the two courts that are now established here, a County Court room, County Industrial Agent's office, and a ladies rest room, besides office space for all the County officials. While the building is constructed throughout on simple lines, still one of the distinctive features is the ornate beauty of its finished appearance, and the flower conservatory at the landing of the stairway from the first to the second story on the west side of the building will add much to the unique style of this modern temple of justice.

Groesbeck common brick was used extensively in the construction but the outside finish is of rough mud brick and Bedford stone with the shades of color changing from a very dark at the base to a light stone at the top.

The first court house was built in this county soon after its organization in 1846 of four foot cedar boards pegged onto cedar post standing upright and covered with three foot cedar boards and being, as is its present successor, the most pretentious building in the county. It had punch-con floors, wherein the greater number of buildings in this section at that time had only dirt floors. This was located at Springfield, the ruins of which now stands near the banks of the Navasota River five miles north of Groesbeck with only a small frame store building operated by a colored man and surrounded by a small colored settlement. This was followed by a small brick building which was burned in about 1870. Most of the records were saved though and were placed in a frame building that had been used for a store. This building was destroyed by fire on October 24, 1873 together with practically all the records of the County. The County site was then transferred to Groesbeck where a small wooden building was used for a short while until a brick building could be erected where the present court house now stands. This building was burned in 1891 and the one now in use was built in 1892. The records were saved from destruction in this last fire. Thus Limestone County has learned its court house building by expensive experience and every precaution has been taken in the building of this seventh court house, as was in the one now standing, to build so well that former experiences of loss by fire might not be repeated.

Hampton Steele of this county, son of Alphonzo Steele the last survivor of the Battle of San Jacinto, has lived to see all seven of Limestone County's court houses and hopes to be at the formal dedication of the last one when it is completed. He is eighty-five years old and the oldest native born Texan so far as can be learned and is still hearty and active.

The ceremonies at the laying of the corner stone of the new building, which Mr. Steele attended, were appropriate and elaborate but it is planned to hold even greater ceremonies

and celebrations when the edifice is completed and ready for occupancy.

COUNTY CLERK DAY POPULAR IN COUNTY

J. L. Day, County Clerk of Limestone County, was here on business from Groesbeck Friday. Mr. Day is being assured on every hand and by voters in every part of the county, that they are going to vote for his reelection. His lead will likely prove many to one, as he has proven to be an efficient officer, courteous to all alike and the tool of no man or clique. These are elements that make friends for any man or woman and besides Mr. Day has only held the office one term and Democrats have long learned the wisdom of keeping an official on the job at least two terms and are going to extend this splendid county clerk the traditional honor.

In speaking of his candidacy, Mr. Day modestly states:

"In announcing my candidacy for a second term as County Clerk I feel that I am only asking for something which has been a custom for many years past.

I promised the people two years ago, if they would elect me, I would do my best to conduct the office on an efficient basis, which should be characteristic of all well regulated offices. This I have done, and I believe every one who has had work sent or brought to this office will agree that my services have been satisfactory, and upon my record I am willing to stand. Since assuming the office of County

Clerk I have treated all alike, giving no one any advantage because of his social or political standing, but believing that all are entitled to a fair and impartial consideration at the hands of a public official, and in this connection I believe that when one is serving in an official capacity that he should not be the special tool of any individuals nor be controlled by any influences which will keep him from giving every one, regardless of race, creed or color a square deal.

I believe in strict enforcement of all the laws by and through the duly constituted authorities, and I will state that I stand for all that which is right, and against all that which is wrong, and in any walk of life that I am placed I will continue to fight for those principles which insure a clean government and making our county a fit place in which to live and to rear our children.

The office of County Clerk belongs to the people, who have been very kind to me; they have gently taken me by the hand and honored me in a way I shall never forget, and for these many favors I am very grateful."

JOHN W. CAVANER IS GIVEN 99 YEARS IN PENITENTIARY

In the 77th district court Thursday morning the jury in the case of John W. Cavaner, on trial since Monday for the murder of his wife in the Ben Hur community last April, returned a verdict of guilty and affixed the punishment at 99 years in the pen.

Cavaner's wife was found dead with her throat cut at the family home on April 21. Cavaner was also found with a big gash in his throat, but he recovered under treatment in the jail where he was placed.

In the trial the defense pleaded insanity, but the jury seems to have thought otherwise and sent him to the pen.

TEST OF SOUND WAVES FAILS TO SHOW SPEED

(By International News Service)

MILAN, Italy, June 14.—To test the carrying properties of waves of sound to a great distance, an experiment on a large scale was made 65 kilometers west from Clermont Ferrand. Ten thousand kilograms of explosives were blown up, at half past seven in the evening. The sound was expected to be heard at Turin at 7:50 p. m., at Milan at 7:55, at Padua at 8:08 p. m. Many persons were prepared to record their impressions.

During the war it was observed that there appeared to exist so-called "zones of silence," in which sounds disappeared. It was hoped that this experiment might throw some light on this subject. However, neither at Milan or Turin was anything heard of the explosion, and another test will be made on the 23rd and 25th of this month.

It is thought that the hour chosen was not quiet enough. There was also a contrary wind, and the sound waves

AVIATOR IS WILLING TO CHALLENGE DEATH RAY

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 13.—Lieutenant Walter Sutter, United States flyer, has offered to fly in a metal plane and permit Grindell Mathews, the English inventor, to play his "death ray" upon the machine as long as he wishes. In volunteering his services Lieutenant Sutter expressed a desire to test the ray in the interest of science. At the same time he defied it to bring him down from a height of 2,000 feet or even less.

"I don't think the ray has the power to bring an airplane to the ground," he said. "I am willing and anxious to take the chance. I would like to gamble for science and the effect it would have in the prevention of future wars."

LADY ASTOR CALLS GOOD OLD DAYS TALK NONSENSE

(By International News Service)

LONDON, June 13.—It's nonsense to talk about the "good old days," Lady Astor says.

"There is a lot of nonsense talked about the good old days," Lady Astor declared. "I want to know who was having a good time in those days. Old Tut-anh-Amen might have been having a good time, but I am convinced the people who were giving him a good time were not correspondingly well off."

"The masses want a better world, and they will get it through ordinary methods if they can, but if you get people who say: 'I am out for myself and the devil take the hindmost,' the devil will take them."

No matter what kind of business a man may be in, it will pay him to advertise.

The Knitted Scarf's the Thing!

THE knitted scarf has taken the world of feminine fashion by storm. No costume is complete without one, and certainly no more bewitching, mode—no style more flattering to women was ever devised.

Among the heavy, closely knitted silk scarves, one may find numerous color harmonies that will lend freshening touches to the severity of the tailleur. Bright Roman stripes are in favor, as well as striking combinations of yellow, green, black or red with white. In fact one of the new knitted scarves, of a delicately sheer and lace-like texture alternates row upon row of rosewood, green, wood brown, and orange—an ensemble at once colorful and striking.

One may be as individual as one chooses in the matter of wearing one's scarf. For smart street wear, most scarves are tied stock-fashion, snugly under the chin. But, as summer brings increasing warmth, on the Avenue a growing tendency was noticed to wear the scarf with one end tossed lightly over the shoulder, in the manner sketched.

Monograms are in their hey-day—they ornament sweater, frock and bathing suit impartially. Even the knitted scarf falls prey to the charm of the monogram and the flaut Chinese characters as the final note in knitted smartness.

Canada's Resorts Meet Every Sort of Vacation Demand

AT MUSKOKA LAKE.

Camping, canoeing, fishing, hunting, alpine climbing and "roughing it" appeal to many as ideal ways in which to enjoy their summer vacations, and if they can do these things in Canada, so much the better. There is, however, another host of older, more sedate souls who also desire an annual change of scene and residence, yet who wish to spend their vacation days in surroundings approximating the comforts of home. These, Canada can also take care of.

St. Andrews-by-the-Sea is one of the most attractive North Atlantic coast resorts. This New Brunswick village boasts a fine hotel, the Algonquin, a huge structure facing the sea on three sides. Fine golf courses, that for excellence vie with those of St. Andrews in Scotland; boating and bathing in Passamaquoddy Bay; tennis and bowling on the green; motorizing or driving to many interesting points over fine roads that often run for miles through deep woods, are delights that appeal to those who visit St. Andrews summer after summer.

Just over the Vermont border in Quebec, 88 miles from Montreal, are two lovely lakes, Magog and Memphremagog, and the little village of Magog which offers a delightful retreat in the Hermitage Country Club Inn for seekers after health, rest and mild exercise. The Owl's Head and Mt. Orford afford not too strenuous climbing, while boating and bathing are the chief pastimes.

Sixty miles northwest of Montreal lies the pretty Laurentian Mountains' resort of Val Morin with its comfortable Pinehurst Inn and cottages beside Lake Raymond.

About three miles back from the railway by a wild, winding, woods-ing on the green; motorizing or driving to many interesting points over fine roads that often run for miles through deep woods, are delights that appeal to those who visit St. Andrews summer after summer.

ics, Dr. William F. Resner, assistant commissioner of public health, Minneapolis, told the physicians.

"If two boys want to talk, they run to each other, and when only a foot apart, shout into each other's faces," he explained. "Girls of grammar school age have their arms around each other and their faces in close contact more often than otherwise. The girls tell their secrets in close-up whispers. And so the germs spread. Parents should teach their children at an early age to avoid the breath of others, as they would avoid a hot stove, or anything else that might kill them."

SHAKESPEARE'S STREAM IS RIVER OF DEATH NOW

(By International News Service)

LONDON, June 13.—The River Avon, beloved of Shakespeare and immortalized in his writings, has become a river of death. It still flows gently between wooded banks and through peaceful meadows, but it has become a martyr to the industrial development of England.

Pollution of the river by sewage from the industrial city of Coventry is responsible for what was once one of the most delightful streams in England becoming an evil-smelling river.

At one time the Avon was a favorite resort for anglers and teemed with fish. For more than two years no fish have been caught. Where water lilies used to bloom in profusion there are no flowers now. Boughs of trees that have leaned down to touch the waters have died.

Efforts are being made to induce the city of Coventry to make other arrangements for its sewage disposal.

Loyalty to those who are loyal will work reciprocal prosperity.

It is easier to get people to take your advice than it is to get them to use it.

DEATH IN COSMETICS: NO HELP FOR HUMANS FROM MONKEY GLANDS

CHICAGO, June 13.—If American girls want to be pretty and healthy they must shun rouge, lip-sticks and mascara on their eye-lashes, declares Dr. H. N. Cole, Cleveland, to the American Medical Association here today.

That bit of advice was not the only woeful matter discussed at the radical convention today. "Monkey Glands" rejuvenation is a myth, like the fairy tale fountain of youth, according to Dr. Clarence A. McWilliams, prominent New York surgeon.

"The use of cosmetics has become unfortunately, more and more common," Dr. Cole said. "What was once considered poor form has now become the mode with women. Most women paint, all women use powders of different types. The average woman uses at least some of the long list of cosmetics. Yet many of these women are unaware of the danger they are running by such habits."

Dr. Cole outlined the dangers. "In the first place there is the pure mechanical obstruction by creams, powders and rouges on the face. The pores in our skin were intended by nature to serve as lubricating and excretory ducts. If there are constantly closed off, it will injure the skin."

Lead in Cosmetics
"The most common offender in cosmetics is lead," he said. "It causes the well-known lead poisoning. This disease results in swelling and inflammation of the affected parts. It brings severe internal pains, intoxication, and sometimes death. And there are many more harmful materials in the various popular cosmetics."

Not even the husband who dutifully rubs tonic into his hair to please his wife is safe, according to the doctor. The tonic may contain carbolic acid, he said, citing a case in which said tonic containing carbolic acid caused a long illness.

"The American Medical Association reports that in their analysis of bleaches and freckle lotions they have found bichloride of mercury in solution as high as 1 to 200 and 28.2 to 1,000," he said.

The amounts of money American women spend on cosmetics are enormous, according to the doctor.

"In 1919 American women spent $205,000,000 in the useless and often harmful quest for beauty via the cosmetic path," he pointed out. "In 1921 manufacturers put out $75,000,000 more of cosmetics than they did in 1919."

And grandpas are likely to get in trouble if they dye their whiskers, he added.

Declines Monkey Glands
Rejuvenation by monkey glands, or by any other kind of glands was officially branded as a myth by Dr. McWilliams.

He cited numerous instances in which such operations were tried and declared that the uniform result was disappearance of the grafted tissues.

"With all these isolated, multiple failures, a surgeon should not waste time or energy with organ grafts taken from another individual. Even between animals of the same species there are unknown differences that prevent the survival of the transplanted arteries."

Reported successes were ascribed to the fact that often the grafted organs "seemed to take." But they suddenly disappear, in a few weeks at most, he said.

But Dr. Cole held out some hope along with his "crepe hanging." The hope is "plastic surgery."

"With it a hideous deformity may be transformed into a scarcely noticeable disfigurement," he declared.

The "secrets" of school girls and the wrestling bouts of little boys cause the spread of serious epidemics.

ELEVEN BASE BALL MEN GIVEN THEIR LETTERS BY POTEET

Eleven members of the High School Black Cat baseball squad were given letters Thursday by Coach E. H. Poteet. Those who received letters had played at least 27 innings and were: W. B. Kendrick, Robert Storey, Robert Wallace, Wayne Lucas, Wayne Thompson, Jim Karner, Doyle Perkinson, Carlos Clover, Barnett Treadway, Loy (Dutch) Cox, and Rollin Maxwell.

Coach Poteet also announced that arrangement for the football camp to be conducted about two weeks before school starts were being made and from all indications there will be a large number of men attending it.

Baseball's red letter day this year was June 4. On that astounding afternoon Red Sox scrambled into first place and Athletics climbed out of cellar.

Like the shot heard round the world, Boston's rise to first place was memorable event. Only said feature was that Paul Revere wasn't there to spread the news to embattled Back Bay fans on village green waiting for the sporting editions of Boston papers.

Athletics, after pulling a Houdini to get out of last place, appear to be on the road to recovery and large gate receipts. Like Horatio Alger's heroes and the price of Scotch they are bound to rise.

Boxing public changes opinions quicker than mother-in-law getting first look at a new son-in-law's bank book. On Carpentier's first trip to this country he was acclaimed as a war hero and the only boxer brave enough to shoulder a musket. After Gibbons' imbroglia temperamental fans turned on Georges as if he was poor relative on annual visit.

A champion is always a shifty boxer because he gets that way from dodging matches with dangerous little contenders.

ROTARY KNOT HOLE CLUB COMMITTEE ENCOURAGES SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE AND HELPS BOYS GO TO BALL GAMES

Val Horn, of the Knot Hole Boys' Committee of the Mexia Rotary club, announces that the club is ready to carry on its program as conducted a part of last year, whereby the boys of Mexia may attend the Gusher baseball games for a nominal sum.

He has membership cards now ready which may be secured by any boy on application. The cards entitle each holder to admittance into the games for ten cents.

The cards read: "Membership Card, auspices of Mexia Rotary club. This is to certify that (name of holder) attends Sunday School and is a member in good standing, entitled to the privileges of the club."

This is signed by the teacher of the Sunday School class of which the bearer is a member.

The card is non transferable and will be revoked on failure to comply with this obligation.

This ticket entitles the holder to admittance to all games, except opening day, July 4th, other holidays, double headers and Sundays.

The obligation is that the bearer will attend Sunday School every Sunday, except in case of sickness, will not use curse words or other bad language and will lead a clean life and will always be a rooter for the Mexia Baseball club."

DAYTON PREPARES FOR AIR CONTEST

DAYTON, O.—Arrangements are well under way here for the annual International Pulitzer air races, to be staged at the Wilbur Wright field in October.

Several hundred airplanes, capable of going at a speed of 250 miles an hour, will compete for prizes aggregating $50,000.

All highways and streets between Dayton and the field are being paved and 800 regular soldiers from Jefferson barracks will act as special patrol during the events. Dayton business men have subscribed $250,000 for the initial expenses of the races.

Thousands of motorists from adjoining states are expected and a plot of 20 acres near the field has been set aside for parking space.

Nearly every state in union will be represented in the races, as well as nearly every European nation. Belgium has promised to send two ships, and England probably will do likewise. Sadi Lecoq, the fastest flyer in France, and Brack Papa of Italy have signified their intention of competing.

The army air service will be represented by the two Curtiss racers which competed last year. They have been equipped with 500 horsepower motors, replacing the 400 horsepower motors used in the 1923 race. The pilots appointed to maneuver

the club."

be represented by a new speed marvel.

The Barling bomber, the biggest ship in the world (is on the program for a series of spectacular flights. Lieutenant Harold R. Harris will be at the stick.

The Pulitzer race will be the main event of the meet, which last three days, beginning October 2. There are ten or twelve other events, including one for small planes, such as those driven by gasoline engines, capable of a long distance flight on a single gallon of gasoline.

For the amateur builders there are six or seven prizes. In addition to the various races, the Shenandoah and a flock of barrae, observation and other balloons will be here in a display of lighter than air machines.

Each evening there will be night flying by illuminated planes.

There has been some concern over the difficulty of housing the hundreds of planes expected to enter the races. Wilbur Wright Field can accommodate about 112, McCook Field can accommodate about 125 and two private fields about 50 each, but many will not be under roof during the races, it is said.

WHEREAS, each and all of said fifteen citizens, so elected, duly qualified as members of said charter commission, and met and organized the same, and duly proceeded to frame a charter for the City of Mexia, Texas, and heretofore, on the 27th day of May, 1924, as such commission, signed such proposed charter and duly provided for the submission of the same to a vote of the qualified voters of said City, at an election to be held upon the question of the adoption or rejection of such charter upon the 7th day of July, 1924; and

Section 1. That an election shall be held in the City of Mexia, Texas, on the 7th day of July, 1924, at which the following proposition shall be submitted:

"Shall the charter reported by the Charter Commission to the City Commission of the City of Mexia, Texas, on the 27th day of May, 1924, and which had been prepared by the Charter Commission duly elected by the qualified voters of the city of the 18th day of March, 1924, be adopted as the charter of the City of Mexia, Texas, as contemplated and authorized by the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas, including Chapter 147, Acts of 1913, Regular Session?"

OFFICIAL BALLOT

"For the adoption of the Charter prepared by the Charter Commission duly elected on the 18th day of March, 1924, and which was reported by said Charter Commission to the City Commission of the City of Mexia on the 27th day of May, 1924."

And those opposed shall have on their ballots the following: "Against the adoption of the Charter prepared by the Charter Commission duly elected on the 18th day of March, 1924, and which was reported by said Charter Commission to the City Commission of the City of Mexia on the 27th day of May, 1924."

Section 6. That the action of the aforesaid Charter Commission in calling the election for the purpose hereinabove stated, and in all other respects with reference to the framing and submitting of such proposed charter, are hereby ratified and confirmed, and the said Charter Commission, or the members thereof, shall ratify and confirm all things done by the present City Commission of the City of Mexia, Texas, with respect to the matters and things dealt with in this ordinance, and shall make the same their act and deed by subscribing their respective names hereto under the caption, "APPROVED BY CHARTER COMMISSION," and such names as so subscribed shall be published as a part of this ordinance.

Section 7. A copy of this ordinance shall be sufficient notice of said election, and thirty (30) days notice of the time and place of holding the said election shall be given by posting certified copies thereof at the places designated for holding said election at least thirty (30) days prior to the holding of said election, and by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) full days from date of election.

Section 8. The fact that the City of Mexia is at the present time without a charter and that the public interests require the adoption of a charter, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the suspension of the rules requiring ordinances to be read upon more than one day and for the immediate taking effect of this ordinance, and such rules are hereby suspended, and it is ordained that this ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage and approval.

INSANITY GRIP IS BROKEN

BY WORK AND EXERCISES

ALBANY, N. Y.—Doses of work and light exercise is the "medicine" which is being used to cure thousands of insane people in this State, according to Dr. O. Floyd Haviland, head of the State Hospital Commission. According to Dr. Haviland, this plan of treating insane and mentally weak patients has emerged from the experimental stage and is a complete success.

Adult patients with minds like children have been so greatly improved by being fed work and exercises instead of drugs and medicine, that their parole is possible. Others, whose disorders are incurable, are brought to a condition where it is much easier for attendants to care for them.

The system under which this is accomplished is known as mental therapy, and New York State was the first to adopt it in its institutions for the insane.

CANDIDATES ARE TAKING CAMPAIGNS TO PEOPLE DIRECT

The past week has found many candidates for county and district offices in Limestone and Freestone counties out in the country, seeking the support of new and old friends in behalf of their candidates. Few speeches have been made so far and nearly all of the campaigning done has been conducted face to face individually or through the mail.

LONDON STREET ARTISTS MAKE WAR ON IMPOSTERS

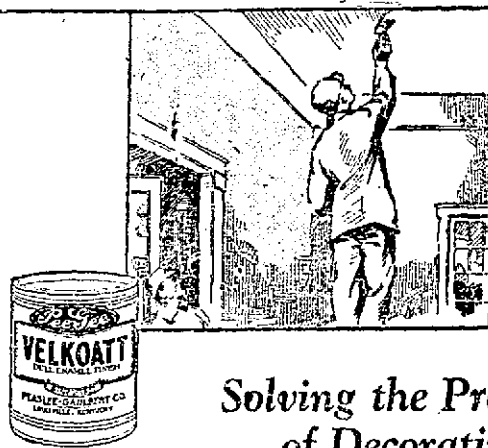

(By International News Service)
LONDON, June 13.—The street artists of London are up in arms against alleged imposters.

There are two varieties of street artists—those who create the works of art which they display and those who merely rent their works of art. The genuine artists who draw sickly pictures of the Prince of Wales are out to drive the hiring-artists from the street, and the police may have to intervene if the war continues.

MacDonald, State Highway Commissioner. More than five million dollars was spent in the last year, with overhead expenses less than a quarter million. State officials intend to go ahead with the work until all Connecticut roads are fit for motor- ing.

While you are giving thought to refinishing walls and ceilings, or per chance woodwork, Velkoatt offers a solution to your problems. It is sanitary, washable, and has a semi-gloss finish.
